THE CANONSBURG CORPORATION:

A LONG-TERM HOUSING SOLUTION

SPRING 2006

Dear Brothers,

Last fall, Hurricane Katrina hit New Orleans and the Gulf Coast unlike any storm before. Some of you have been concerned about our desire to keep New Orleans as our host city for the Grand Arch Council after such devastation. I understand those concerns, and believed we needed to see for ourselves how the city is recovering. I promised that we would build contingency plans in case New Orleans could not be ready for our arrival, but those plans are not necessary. Let me tell you what I saw there as a tourist and brother of Phi Kappa Psi.

You cannot see much storm damage on the drive into the city. Our hotel received little damage, and they have taken the opportunity to move up renovation plans that were to begin later in the year. The venues for all our events are in working order, and the staff is excited for our arrival.

There is no way to say that New Orleans has not changed. But after one visit, I can tell you that it is coming back quickly. The downtown areas, including the French Quarter, suffered minor damage, but I would challenge you to find any trace of the hurricane. Though some residential communities were extensively damaged and are now abandoned, these are not areas that we would see as visitors, and new construction and rehabilitation of these areas has begun. While I am concerned for these regions and their occupants, they will not affect our delegates to the GAC.

As guests of Brother Lee Reid, Louisiana Gamma '93, my wife Barbara and I attended the Krewe of the Athenians' white tie Mardi Gras Ball. The event was held in the Hilton Riverside, the very hotel that will host the GAC. The dinner and dance went off without any problems, and I am confident that the Hilton is prepared for our arrival.

Last fall, I stated that the best way to help New Orleans recover is to go there and spend our money. The city needs to get tourists back in hotels so the locals can have jobs. What better way for us to help the economy than to participate in the wonderful southern hospitality that New Orleans is known for?

If you miss this GAC, you will be sorry: it has the makings of our best convention ever! Please consider joining us from August 9-13. You will be glad you did!

In The Bond,

James R. Blazer

59th SWGP of Phi Kappa Psi

Dear Editor:

You and the Executive Council, along with the Endowment Fund Trustees and many others, need to know that your work is very much appreciated by those of us who are pretty much sitting on the sidelines and watching what has happened lately with Phi Kappa Psi.

A major accomplishment, of course, is the recent acquisition of Laurel Hall, a spectacular new Headquarters that should serve our brotherhood for decades to come. For that, we are especially indebted to the seven very generous Cornerstone donors who really made it all possible and whose extraordinary commitment is both an example and a challenge to us all.

Other positive news fills the Winter 2006 issue of The Shield. Critics of fraternities would do well to read "FELA Training," as well as the account of the Woodrow Wilson Leadership School to learn that there is much, much more to fraternities than parties and pranks.

So, while we aren't perfect (no human institution is), we're sure trying, and are making significant progress. I send sincere thanks to the many talented and dedicated brothers who are responsible.

Fraternally,

Norman M. Spain, Ohio Delta '33

Thanks Norm! We have been receiving a lot of feedback about the acquisition of Laurel Hall. Though the majority has been positive, we appreciate hearing concerns and questions from alumni as well. The important thing is that we're sparking conversation, which shows how much you all care about Our Strong Band.

The Shield consistently seeks talented artists, photographers and writers to supplement the magazine on a generally pro bono basis. There are plenty of things going on in the world of Phi Psi, and we want to highlight as many as possible! Contact us with your ideas or your interest, and we can come up with ideas for you. We accept word-processed writing, digital photos (.jpg or .tiff, please) and printed photographs, as well as scans or quality copies of original drawings. If you would like to see your work published in the Shield, contact the Headquarters.

THE CANONSBURG CORPORATION PHI KAPPA PSI'S NATIONAL HOUSE CORPORATION

By: Mark Solomon, Missouri Alpha '98 John Ziegelmeyer, Kansas Alpha '70

On Feb. 5, 2005, the Executive Council approved the creation of a national housing corporation, the Canonsburg Corporation. Created for the sole purpose of supporting our chapters' housing efforts, the corporation is meant to bring Phi Kappa Psi to the forefront of the world of Greek-letter housing.

The Corporation has been charged with taking a comprehensive, long-term approach in addressing the housing improvement needs of our established chapters and the new housing needs of our young chapters. Simply, the Fraternity needed to find a way to prevent Phi Kappa Psi from losing any existing facilities and to begin to establish a way for Fraternity to help purchase new and remodel old chapter houses.

The long-term goal is for Phi Kappa Psi to help every chapter with a property to upgrade its facility, every chapter that wants a facility to be able to get one, and every new chapter that comes into our fold to be able to be housed. These lofty aspirations came from the efforts of some of the Fraternity's most committed volunteers, and will require action from every level, from new initiate up.

BACKGROUND: HOW DID WE GET HERE?

By much slothfulness the building decayeth; and through idleness of the hands the house droppeth through.

A feast is made for laughter, and wine maketh merry: but money answereth all things.

~Ecclesiastes 10:18-19

Special thanks to Benjamin P.A. Warthen, Virginia Alpha '62, for this passage.

For a number of years, Phi Kappa Psi became more aware of some startling trends in the Fraternity: our percentage of chapters owning houses was dropping; it was becoming more difficult for local groups to obtain financing for capital projects; schools were looking toward our facilities as their campuses expanded; and universities as a whole were beginning to provide the top-level housing options not previously available on campus besides through the Greek community.

In 2002, the Executive Council responded to these trends by forming "Project 2025," a special committee to strategically assess the Fraternity's future in the area of housing. Their mission statement was "To help promote and maintain the safest, most affordable and comfortable housing options for all Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity chapters."

Project 2025 was a departure from what the way Phi Psi had addressed housing in the past. Traditionally, the Fraternity viewed the independence of local house corporations to be a hallmark of local independence. After all, it was thought, the corporations are legally independent, and they are certainly capable of knowing how to best address a local housing issue. But this policy also was a barrier to providing hands-on assistance with chapters' corporations from the national level.

Project 2025 met regularly, usually at the expense of the volunteer members, including Rick Boland, Richard Bower, John Henebry, Shannon Price, Matt Shaw, Jim Trigilio, Wynn Wiegand and John Ziegelmeyer. They quickly put together the Fraternity's National Housing Education Conference in Las Vegas, Nev., and sought to gather as much information regarding the world of college housing as possible.

After a couple of initial meetings, it became very obvious to the committee members that, in order to be successful long-term in the housing arena, the Fraternity would have to further break with tradition and look at some type of entity that could manage, operate, loan and guarantee funds, purchase property, etc., for local house corporations, and for the benefit of the entire Fraternity. The biggest question facing the committee was what to create, and how to do it.

Other Fraternities have had some sort of national housing project for many years, including Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Pi Kappa Alpha, Lambda Chi Alpha and Beta Theta Pi, just to name a few. The committee began to assess and compare these groups in order to really get a handle on what was already successful in the interfraternal world. By December 2004, two other Fraternities stood out for the potential their housing models could benefit Phi Psi, so several Committee members personally visited the offices of Sigma Phi Epsilon in Richmond, Va., and Pi Kappa Alpha in Memphis, Tenn.

Although very successful individually, the two organizations have different philosophies on how their specific national house corporations should operate. One takes advantage of a large credit line, guaranteed with a substantial amount of funds on deposit, while the other operates a very closely held and managed group of properties. Both are very successful and growing annually.

The committee had finalized a proposal and made its pitch to the Executive Council for approval. The structure and function of the eventual corporation reflected a great deal of research and hard work, and resulted in a blend of the most applicable ideas taken from other successful organizations.

OPERATIONS: WHAT CAN THE CORPORATION DO?

When fully operational, the Canonsburg Corporation will have the power to borrow money, make and guarantee loans; acquire, hold, manage and sell property; hire outside consultants such as legal, accounting, property management, banking and investment advisors; and employ staff to advise local house corporations, assess requests from local house corporations, and act as intermediaries for local house corporations when dealing with banks, property managers, attorneys, etc.

The Canonsburg Corporation is going to be a resource for chapters and house corporations, and one more effective than anything else the Fraternity has ever had to offer. But each corporation will continue to have independence with regard to their own facilities. No control is being taken away from chapters, but more assistance and guidance will be available.

The Corporation will only conduct business with established local house corporations. All local house corporations interested in assistance will be required to submit a detailed application before the Corporation will consider any request for financing. The loan application will require proof of legal existence of the house corporation, proof of active involvement by the house corporation, demonstrated financial performance of the house corporation and the chapter, and a certified appraisal of the property to be financed, along with other requirements unique to each individual application.

Additionally, the Canonsburg Corporation will be a resource hub for local corporations, and will work with Headquarters to provide the very best help and information with regard to the requirements listed above.

The Corporation will have the ability to make 1st mortgage loans, 2nd mortgage loans and Ohio Mu, a new chapter at Dayton University, was able to acquire this property with the help of the university.

unsecured loans for such purposes as safety or mandated improvements. The policies of the Corporation will provide for a maximum repayment term of 20 years and require that any loan made for a term of more than 5 years be at an interest rate that adjusts at least annually.

The Corporation Board will set overall guidelines, objectives and priorities of its staff, who will report to Executive Director of the Fraternity.

Illinois Beta, a closed chapter at the University of Chicago, lost this property.

The Pennsylvania Epsilon Chapter house was purchased by Gettysburg College. Though it will continue to be the home of the chapter, cases like this have motivated Fraternity leadership to search for a way for chapter houses to remain under the autonomous control of local corporations, when possible.

STRUCTURE: HOW WILL THIS WORK?

The Canonsburg Corporation was established as a $50\,l\,(c)(7)$ organization, wholly owned by Phi Kappa Psi, Inc., its sole shareholder. Five Phi Psi brothers were appointed by SWGP James R. Blazer II to the Board of Trustees in order to manage the Corporation:

President

John J. Ziegelmeyer, Kansas Alpha '70

Vice-President

James T. Schwartz, Indiana Delta '85

Secretary

Richard C. Bower, Oklahoma Alpha '56

Treasurer

John P. Henebry, California Delta '85

Trustee

Chad J. Overton, Indiana Eta '93

Trustees are appointed for six-year terms by the SWGP, with the consent of the Executive Council. Initially, two Trustees were appointed to serve until Sept. 1, 2008, and three Trustees were appointed to serve until Sept. 1, 2010. Trustees are limited to serving two terms (regardless of length), but could be re-appointed after at least 2 years of non-service on the Board. Trustees are not paid a salary for their service.

The Executive Director of Phi Kappa Psi is an "ex officio" member of the Board. The Director of House Corporations serves as a liaison to consult with the Corporation Board of Trustees on behalf of the Executive Council. The name "The Canonsburg Corporation" was chosen in order to allow for some distance from the Fraternity and to give more creditability in the marketplace with lenders, property managers and vendors.

The bylaws of the Corporation provide for further requirements for the Board, specifically with regard to Trustee eligibility and powers. If you wish to explore the specific documents regarding the Corporation set-up, please contact the Director of Alumni Services at Headquarters.

FUNDING: HOW WILL PHI KAPPA PSI MAKE THIS HAPPEN?

In order for the Corporation to truly be effective and beneficial to chapters, money must be found. The Trustees have been charged with exploring and finding funding from a variety of sources. Some of the potential sources may include: private financing from investors who are guaranteed a rate of return on their investment; a line of credit from a bank; or investment and fee income.

However, one of the most effective and consistent ways for the Corporation to take hold will most likely be through an undergraduate assessment. Every other national house corporation that was reviewed had some

Virginia Beta celebrates 150th Anniversary at Washington & Lee University

The Virginia Beta Chapter of Phi Kappa Psi celebrated its 150th anniversary on the campus of Washington & Lee University the weekend of Sept. 8-11, 2005. Nearly 150 alumni, actives and guests participated in the four-day milestone celebration. Virginia Beta is the third chapter of Phi Kappa Psi National and the first fraternity established at W&L.

The weekend began Thursday evening with a welcoming reception by the active brothers for a meet-and-greet at the House on 301 E. Washington Street. Following the reception, some of the returning alumni went to the old town watering hole, The Palms, to reminisce about the good old days over a pint and some Prairie Fire.

On Friday, alumni enjoyed a beautiful day at Lexington Golf & Country Club for a "General's Choice" golf tournament. Brother Paul Marisciullo '86 and his group nearly broke the course record by finishing the round in an astounding 5 hours and 40 minutes. This allowed well over an hour for the other participants at the 19th hole to enjoy old stories and some frosty adult beverages while waiting for Brother Paul's group. Friday evening, alumni and actives gathered at the house for a catered cookout and live entertainment on the back patio by the Family Groove Company. Brothers enjoyed good food, drink and even a trampoline (at least until the House Corporation members figured out the insurance liability). A group picture was taken while toasting brother Mike McEvoy '88, who was unable to attend but forwarded a large bottle of wine from his employer, Joseph Phelps Vineyards. Despite the abundance of successful businessmen participating in the toast, no one seemed to have a problem drinking a fine Red out of paper cups. Obviously it is a step up from the old days, when the wine came from a cardboard box. For a second night in a row, many Phi Psi's took the post party to the Palms for more merriment. The Lexington economy can thank Phi Psi for a major boost that weekend in September.

Saturday was the big day of celebration beginning with breakfast at the Alumni House, a group photo in front of Lee Chapel, and the 150th assembly in Lee Chapel. The program was emceed by Jim Clark '84, who did a fabulous job despite not being very funny. The history of Virginia Beta was discussed, including a presentation by Brother Craig Monroe '87 on the Virginia Beta brothers who fought in the Civil War. It was an excellent demonstration of how the history of our nation, our University and our Fraternity are intertwined. The assembly also included awards of special recognition to J. J. Smith '60 for his many years of service on the House Corporation, as well as honorary guest, Jerry Nelson, California Epsilon '48, for his contributions to Phi Psi National and for the Leadership Academy, Cabo Alpha, in Cabo San Lucas, Mexico. The Klinedinst Brothers, John '71 '78L and Duncan '74 also took the podium to discuss the state of the union of Phi Kappa Psi. They provided insight into the strength of the Fraternity and the endowment fund.

Following the assembly was a tailgate party at the Castle House prior to the Generals' 36-24 football victory over Alfred University of New York. The BBQ and Bluegrass was a perfect tune up for the game under sunny skies. At halftime, the returning brothers were recognized with a special announcement about the I50th anniversary to the roar of the crowd at Wilson Field. The late afternoon was reserved for touring the campus, buying souvenirs, and power-napping prior to the evening's big event. A cocktail reception at Lee House was followed by a banquet dinner in Letitia

P. Evans Dining Hall. Following dinner and a few more remarks and awards, the ageless and timeless Leggs performed making young and old feel 21 again. The evening was a great success with many brothers using muscles they haven't used in years while sweating to the oldies on the dance floor. The choice of Leggs was a sentimental favorite since they used to play at the House back in their younger days. They truly enjoy playing for the members of Virginia Beta as they remember the legendary parties at 301 East Washington Street that made Phi Psi the "Best Damn House on Campus."

Prior to departing the lovely Shenandoah Valley on Sunday, with hangovers and more fond memories of our days at Virginia Beta, there was a Memorial dedication in honor of brothers A. Paul Knight '85 and J. Patrick O'Connell '85. The dedication included a memorial plaque in the garden behind the house and several of our favorite stories about our beloved brothers Knight and O'Connell, both of whom were taken from us much too soon. They are lost but not forgotten.

The four-day event was a resounding success. The weather, attendance, variety of activities, and camaraderie were all spectacular. It could not have been possible without the efforts of several committed alumni and active brothers. Special thanks go out to all the 150th Class Chairs and to the 150th committee: JJ Smith, III '60; John Klinedinst '71, '78L; Duncan Klinedinst '74; James Clark '84; William Brown '87; and Corbin Blackford '07. Most of all, the weekend could not have been pulled off without the efforts of our insider, Tom Lovell '91, who as the acting Alumni Director at W&L enabled the Brothers of Phi Psi to take over the campus and town of Lexington. Until next time....High High High...

Phi Kappa Psi Celebrates 150 Years at Gettysburg College

By John Pontius, Pennsylvania Epsilon '02

In 1885, the seventh chapter of Phi Kappa Psi, Pennsylvania Epsilon, was founded as the first fraternity at Gettysburg College. Today there are nearly 100 Phi Psi chapters nationwide with over 100,000 initiated brothers, including over 1,600 initiated at Gettysburg College.

Sept. 16-18, 2005, marked Phi Psi's 150th anniversary celebration. Gettysburg, Pennsylvania was abuzz with more than 200 alumni, collegians, spouses, families and special guests for the joyous occasion.

Weiser Hall served as the headquarters for the weekend's events. Everyone agreed that the Life Safety Renovations on the house over the summer exceeded all expectations. It is hard to believe that the College was able to transform the house in three short months. Special thanks go to Life Safety Director Pete North for coordinating the renovations. Currently, twenty-five brothers live in Weiser Hall.

On Friday afternoon there was a Golf Tournament held at the Bridges Golf Club in Abbottstown, Pennsylvania. Over twenty brothers participated, with a foursome from the '50's winning the tournament. Special thanks go to Vince Scola '57, who served as the liaison for the Golf Tournament.

Saturday morning was the grand re-opening of Weiser Hall. Brothers Ned Brownley '53 and Reverend Fred Weiser '57 cut the ceremonial ribbon. Brother Brownley has supervised numerous renovations of Weiser Hall and Miller Hall over the last four decades. Brother Weiser is the son of Donald Weiser '29, for whom our fraternity house is named. On Saturday afternoon, we had a picnic at the Quarry Pavilion. Over 100 brothers and spouses enjoyed the idyllic setting before heading over to watch the football game against Rochester.

On Saturday night, over 175 alumni, collegians, spouses, families and special guests attended the Banquet at the Grand Ballroom of the Gettysburg Hotel. There were representatives from every decade from the last sixty years, with the two most senior brothers being Clayton Dovey Ir. '48 and Clayton Warman '48. Guest Speaker Tryon Hubbard, Alabama Alpha '64, the SWAG for Phi Kappa Psi, spoke about the future of the Fraternity. Nick Modha '01, the Alumni Corporation President spoke about the history of the chapter. Joe Lynch, Director of Alumni Relations represented the College at the Banquet. Tony Elar '75 gave out commemorative watercolor prints of Weiser and Miller Hall to the following alumni for Lifetime Achievement: Dr. John Ziegler '49, Ned Brownley '53, Rev. Fred Weiser '57, Scott Schoner '84 and Lou Chiarlanza '84. At the conclusion of the evening several brothers made impromptu remarks as to what Phi Psi has meant to them, including Colonel William Albright '76, Dr. Robert Bucher '76 and Wilson Freeze '50. On Sunday morning, breakfast was served at Weiser Hall and followed by a very crowded meeting at Miller Hall, which was the first fraternity house erected in the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity and was the first college fraternity house in the state of Pennsylvania.

Special thanks are due to the collegiate brothers for the weekend, especially Adam Rosen '06, Jim Williams '07, Cory Malone '07 and Jack Pipkin '07. The weekend was one that Phi Psi brothers and all others involved will remember for years to come. For more photos of the weekend, visit our website, www.pennsylvaniaepsilon.com, and click on "Photo Gallery."

Academy Gives Undergraduates Perspective, Leadership Tools

Barrett Anderson, Iowa Alpha '05

As I sat on my flight to Indianapolis, all I could do was wonder what the next few days had in store for me. I began to speak with the man seated next to me as we waited on the runway, and, to my great surprise, came to discover that he was a Phi Psi alumnus. We had a great talk about the Fraternity and, although the flight itself was unremarkable, that fortunate random meeting and subsequent conversation displayed for me how the Fraternity can help create successful men and foreshadowed the wonderful experience that awaited me at the Presidents Leadership Academy, held Jan. 20-22, 2006.

Upon my arrival, I met many brothers from around the country, most of them the presidents of their respective chapters and all of them leaders and Phi Psi gentlemen. These men, more than anything, showed me what Phi Kappa Psi truly is on a nationwide level. The brothers at PLA were, without fail, respectful and decent men, and it was an amazing opportunity to meet and speak with them. Hearing what was happening at other chapters, what they are doing to improve themselves, their colleges, and their communities, what they have done that has been successful to help their academic records, recruitment, social activities, alumni involvement and new member education and other bits of news was as interesting as it was informative. PLA was a perfect venue for encouraging the dissemination of good ideas between chapter presidents about many different topics ranging from chapter management to how to take advantage of services offered by both Headquarters and their respective colleges.

This PLA was the first one hosted at the incredible new Headquarters building, Laurel Hall. Laurel Hall was certainly breathtaking and provided the ideal facilities for our activities. A tour of the mansion was one of the first things on our agenda. I will never forget how beautiful it was, nor will I forget the beaming faces of SWGP James Blazer and the Headquarters staff as they proudly and fondly spoke of Phi Psi's new national address and the noteworthy story of how it was acquired. Phi Psi is lucky to have such a magnificent edifice as a home.

The PLA was enlightening and well organized. First, Mystagogue Kent Christopher Owen spoke enthusiastically about the differences inherent in Phi Psi, and why all fraternities cannot be lumped together under one label. It is not his specific words that stay with me to this day, but the ideas about the importance of the Ritual that he espoused and the passion with which he spoke them. It was also interesting to hear details about the Founders and the cultures and influences that inspired them. The address from Brother Owen was the highlight of the Academy as it encouraged us to think about our Fraternity on a deeper level. His speech created a buzz among the brothers for the entirety of the weekend.

The actual curriculum began with the formation of small groups, led by facilitators from all over the country. I had the great pleasure of having SWAG Tryon Hubbard as my facilitator. His guidance was invaluable during the course of PLA as we discussed ethical dilemmas, conflict management and our visions for our chapters. I acquired a deep respect for Brother Hubbard during the course of PLA and I have heard similar stories from other small groups, so it is clear that the leadership and direction provided by the facilitators was invaluable for the development of the critical decision-making skills needed to run a chapter of Phi Kappa Psi.

As PLA progressed, we utilized Open-Space Technology (OST) to discuss and categorize possible solutions to common problems faced by many different chapters. As the instructional book said, OST is based on the "self-managing" and "participative gatherings" of tribes in North America and Africa and is a way of bringing together "a diverse group of people...to deal with complex problems in innovative and productive ways." Topics included alumni participation, academic achievement, recruitment, hazing and others. Many useful ideas for tackling these potential problems came out of our use of OST.

In addition to using OST, we also defined our personal values, talked about how they might conflict with our chapter's values, and how we might deal with that dichotomy in a constructive way. Managing conflict within our chapters, developing clear communication techniques and finding role models were also highly emphasized. I must say that I was disappointed that no one in my small group had heard of Iowa Alpha's Brother Nile C. Kinnick, but I was slightly mollified when I was asked to enumerate on the numerous qualities of the Heisman Award-winning World War II hero, whom my chapter sees as the embodiment of everything it means to be a Phi Psi (please excuse the shameless plug). Finding a brand identity for Phi Psi on our campuses was an important subject as well, as creating a superior brand associated with excellence for our chapters is a great way to consistently recruit top quality men and then transform them into accomplished, driven brothers.

The PLA curriculum was very helpful to me as an incoming president. Karyn Nishimura Sneath of NPower and former Director of Leadership Development Shane Yates did an incredible job of getting the assembled presidents to critically examine our roles within our chapters and to consider ways to positively impact our brothers. The leadership training I received at PLA has greatly assisted me in my first semester as president of my chapter, as I am sure it did my counterparts across the nation. At the close of the PLA, when we stood in a circle, "passed the gavel," and told our most memorable experience from our time in Indianapolis, it was quite obvious that PLA had deeply and profoundly influenced every brother there.

Breakout sessions were held throughout Laurel Hall.

Phi Psi Police Officer Recovering After Tragic Accident

By: Nick Pieri, Illinois Eta '99

"I sure didn't choose to go down this road, but I have to travel it, and I have to make the best of it".

Kate Riney was watching TV at 9:30 p.m. on Dec. 19, 2005, when an Alton police sergeant knocked on the door and said that her husband, Sam, Illinois Eta '99, a police officer, had been in a traffic accident.

Crews were still pulling him from the wreckage of his squad car. They didn't know if he would survive.

She and the sergeant waited at the house for 45 minutes before a call came that Sam was alive. Moments later, she saw the medical helicopter fly over their house, carrying him to Barnes-Jewish Hospital in St. Louis. Several more hours passed before she could see him, and then only for a minute before he was whisked away for surgery. But it was long enough to see that he was breathing. "That night, it was as much as I could ask for," she said at their home in Alton.

Now, months after the crash, the couple is preparing for the birth of their first child and dealing with the lingering effects of the crash. "Most of our days still revolve around the accident," said Kate Riney, 25.

Sam doesn't remember the oncoming Chevy Tahoe that crossed the center line and smashed into his squad car. It happened three hours into his night shift as he patrolled the area of Fosterberg Road and Storey Lane. He remembers bits from those hours, but his memory stops roughly 10 minutes before the crash. He doesn't remember the collision or the hour he spent trapped in the crumpled car while emergency crews worked to free him. "It's fine not to remember that," said Sam.

Doctors couldn't tell his wife what to expect. The first night, Kate said, she was too stunned to understand everything happening around her. She does remember police detectives and Police Chief Chris Sullivan arriving at the hospital that night. A uniformed Alton police officer would stay at the hospital with them around the clock for several weeks to show the department's support.

Sam, 27, had fractures in both femur bones in his legs, his left arm, his skull and one ankle. He suffered severe head trauma, including an injury known as "brain-shearing," in which the two halves of the brain rub against each other and cause bleeding. One week after the crash, doctors removed the breathing tube from his mouth and inserted a tracheotomy tube in his throat. They also gave him a feeding tube, and long-term brain injury was a worry.

Sam spent more than three weeks in the intensive-care unit, and then moved to a rehabilitation center Jan. 13, 2006. His therapy included problem-solving exercises, such as planning daily activities and figuring math equations.

These tasks caused him few problems, he said, and he's at 90 percent of the mental level he had before the crash.

It's the physical recovery that's most frustrating. Before the crash, he was a black belt in tae kwon do. Now it's hard for him to maintain his balance. He first learned to use a walker, then advanced to using a cane, which he now needs only sometimes. The crash changed his physical appearance too. He's 45 pounds lighter, and much of that weight loss was muscle. He had facial reconstruction surgery to mend broken bones, and now has titanium plates in both cheeks.

The man behind the wheel of the Tahoe that hit Sam's car suffered only minor injuries. That man, Orval Sherwood, of Brighton, Ill., was treated and released that same night. Sherwood, 25, pleaded guilty last month to aggravated drunken driving and to driving with a suspended license. He could face probation or up to 12 years in prison. The Rineys - high school sweethearts who married more than three years ago - said they'd be at Sherwood's sentencing but didn't want to comment on what punishment they thought he deserved.

Sam Riney came home Feb. 14, 2006. He goes to rehab three times a week. Their son is due at the end of May. They registered for baby gifts, but haven't got around to getting the nursery ready. They celebrated a belated Christmas. Kate, a real estate agent, has returned to work part time.

Sam said he wanted to return to the police department and go back to patrol work. But he knows it's not going to be easy. "I sure didn't choose to go down this road," he said. "But I have to travel it, and I have to make the best of it."

On Feb. 11, 2006, the Phi Kappa Psi Illinois Eta Chapter co-sponsored an event with the Alton Police department to help raise funds for Sam and his family. Working together, they where able to raise over $35,000. If you would like to make any contributions please send checks to the benefit fund mentioned below. Any donations would be greatly appreciated.

Founders Day Reports

ATLANTA ALUMNI ASSOCIATION GROWING AND CROWING

As Atlanta area Phi Psis gathered on Friday, March 3, to celebrate Founders Day, we were pleased to welcome SWGP Jim Blazer, Ohio Delta '77, as our featured speaker. A total of 49 Brothers, including undergraduate members from Georgia Beta (Tech) and Alabama Beta (Auburn), listened intently to the report on our growth in chapters and plans for the future, on the acquisition and development of Laurel Hall, and on the upcoming GAC in New Orleans this summer. Delegates for the Atlanta AA were elected, and several in attendance indicated their plans to attend as well. Continuing to serve as officers are: Keith Troutman, Pennsylvania Nu '70, President; Ken Quarles, Georgia Alpha '87, Vice President; Flynn Brantley, South Carolina Alpha '72, Secretary/Treasurer.

A number of the undergrads (and a few alumni) were anticipating Spring Break at Cabo Alpha, and have since returned with many great stories and adventures. Of greater significance for us all were the enthusiastic attitudes and "new" ideas that the returning brothers shared with us, in chapter meetings and at our monthly lunches. We still meet for lunch on the second Friday of each month, at 11:54 a.m., and proudly boast attendance in the double digits for the last 6-8 months. As our membership grew slightly in the last year, we did manage to increase representation to 31 different chapters, but still cover a mere seven decades (we will have to wait until after 2010 to add another). We welcome those who live in the area, and if you are visiting Atlanta during that time, we invite you to join us as well. Our newest face to join, Bryan Coan, California Zeta '92, had been getting our newsletter, but met one regular lunch attendee at a St. Patrick's Day party, was encouraged to join, and will be getting involved with our local chapters. Don't be afraid to wear your Phi Psi identification proudly; you never know when a brother is standing beside you, looking to make a connection with the Fraternity again. For details about events, contact info on www.geocities.com/atlantaphipsi

CHICAGO ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

This year's Founders Day was a success with a total of 39 alumni and undergraduates attending from local Chicago chapters. The event was held at Goose Island Brewery where the Chicago Alumni Assoc. Board arranged to have a private room with a wide array of appetizers and drinks to satisfy all the attendees. The alumni board was also able to arrange for our National Historian, Mr. Mike McCoy, to come and speak about his life experiences involving Phi Kappa Psi, and how Founders Day should truly be remembered and cherished each and every year. All that attended truly honored Mr. McCoy with applause, and many photos were taken after the event.

The newly elected 2006 Chicago Alumni Association Executive Board consists of the following gentlemen: Mr. Karl Marschel - President, Mr. Anthony Sacco - Vice President, Mr. David Metzger - Treasurer, and Mr. Tom Cummings - Secretary. The commitment and dedication that these four individuals have provided over the past several months has proved to be a great success at yet another Founders Day dedicated to Mr. Charles Page Thomas Moore and Mr. William Henry Letterman.

The Chicago Alumni Association has several events coming up this summer, including a golf outing, monthly happy hours and several opportunities to experience the great joy of helping others with several charitable organizations around the Chicagoland area. The association is also planning a summer boat outing on Lake Michigan.

If you would like to get involved with the Chicago Alumni Association and meet some fellow brothers in the area please feel free to contact us at www.phipsichicago.org

COLUMBUS ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Columbus AA Founders day was held at Scioto Country Club on March 18th at 11:30am. A board meeting preceded the event, and 50 undergraduate brothers and alumni enjoyed a delicious buffet luncheon and cash bar. Our speaker, Stephen Myers, Ph.D., is a faculty member at Ohio State and is the Director of the Ohio BioProducts Innovation Center at OSU. Dr. Myers gave a fascinating presentation touching on the importance of basic research and development to Ohio's economy. Job creation, industrial competitiveness and energy self-sufficiency were also topics discussed. The program raised a series of interesting questions from the assembled brothers. Our Founders Day celebrated the successes we have had with respect to our leadership recognition, academics and Honor's Lodge. We look forward to a safe and prosperous 2006.

GREATER ORANGE COUNTY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Greater Orange County Alumni Association held its annual Founders Day dinner on the evening of February 26 at the Tustin Ranch Golf club. Over 220 brothers gathered, from the undergraduates from California Kappa – University of California, Irvine, California Delta – University of Southern California, and California Epsilon – University of California, Los Angeles chapters, along with alumni representing chapters from across California and the nation. The assembled brothers were able to gather and hear about the state of the Fraternity while catching up with old friends.

The GPs of the three local chapters gave spirited reports updating everyone on how the chapters were doing. Our own Executive Director, Shawn Collinsworth, capped off the evening by updating the assembled brothers about the state of the Fraternity while sharing a little history about life in 1852.

We were honored to have Past SWGPs John Ciccarelli and George Humpries in attendance. Special thanks go out to Founders Day Chairman Scott Vickers along with AA President Matthew Shaw, AA Treasurer Wendell Childs, Dennis Karlin, and Ken Shaw, who helped plan and organize this year's event.

In continuation of the brotherhood of Founders Day, the Greater Orange County Alumni Association will continue to hold monthly breakfasts on the third Tuesday of each month at 7:00 AM at Mimi's Café in Irvine on the corner of Barranca and Culver. Please contact Scott Vickers (scott@expitras.com, 949-270-0510) or Matthew Shaw (mattjshaw@yahoo.com, 949-863-4572) for more information.

HOUSTON ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The past several months have been very active for the Houston Alumni Association. The announcement of the new Texas Zeta colony located at Houston Baptist University has caused quite a stir. Several Houston alumni were already active with the young Texas Epsilon chapter had have agreed to help other alumni guide the new colony. If you have not had a chance to meet the members of Texas Epsilon or Texas Zeta, please take a few moments to talk with them. A Founders Day was quickly put together by Brother Dustin Nicholson this year, with a good turnout for such quick notice. 25 members from the Texas Beta colony, along with their dates, were joined by 20 alumni for dinner at the Downtown Aquarium restaurant. If you are interested in joining us for other events, we have a monthly "mid-town" lunch at the Goode Company Tacqueria at the intersection of Kirby and Westpark. Lunches are held from 11:30 to 12:30 on the second Thursday of each month. Efforts are also being made to put together a second monthly lunch on the west side of town. Communication with the Houston Alumni Association is handled through our Yahoo group page http://groups.yahoo.com/group/HoustonPhiPsis/ or you can contact Chuck Brandman at brandman@pdq.net. Please join us!

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Fraternity's Most Dangerous Alumni Association celebrated Founders Day on February 20 with an informal lunch at the Pyramid Alehouse in Walnut Creek. Amongst our special guests were SWGP Jim Blazer, SWAG Tryon Hubbard, Endowment Fund Trustees Dick Ong and Kent Newmark, and "Mr. Phi Psi" Dud Daniel.

The "topic de jour" was the return of California Gamma to the University of California at Berkeley. A house corporation has been formed, with Blake Yeaman, Cal Gamma '78, as its president.

All Brothers who wish to lend their time.

money or moral support to the effort are asked to contact Blake at byeaman@mac.com or write to the Alumni Association at 584 Pimlico Court, Walnut Creek, CA 94597.

It's not too early to mark your calendars for the first December Big Game Lunch in memory. We'll gather in San Francisco on December 1, 2006 – the day before the Cal – Stanford football game.

If you'd like to receive the Phi Psi Rag, our semi-irregular newsletter, please email kperscheid@westaff.com or write to the above address.

PHOENIX ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

As the Alumni Association for the greater Phoenix area had fallen in disrepair, several motivated brothers have put forth much effort to get things rightfully on track. After efforts to contact the over 500 brothers in the surrounding Phoenix area and holding many planning sessions, our first Founders Day in nearly 20 years was held.

With so much time having past, we were happy to see a turnout of 40 alumni and five undergraduates from the local Arizona Beta (ASU) Chapter enjoy a dinner together at McCormick and Schmick's seafood restaurant. The alumni attendance was very diverse, with brothers from different chapters around the country spanning initiations as far back as 1938. Congratulations to Mike Castrogiovanni, Mark Bruner, and Ted Hackman on putting together a great event.

If you were not contacted directly and would enjoy being a part of the fun again, please email alumni@phxpkp.com at your earliest convenience.

PITTSBURGH ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Founders Day was a huge success for the Pittsburgh Alumni Association with almost 50 brothers in attendance at the historic Duquesne Club. We even had to set up another table to accommodate the overflow crowd. Some of the highlights for the Founders Day Celebration include:

- I. President Jim Denny and Secretary Abe Key signed a copy of the new Pittsburgh Phi Kappa Psi Alumni Association By-Laws. Those signed By-Laws have been sent to National as part of the permanent records of the Association.
- 2. Attendance of undergrads from Washington and Jefferson College and West Virginia University.
- 3. National President Jim Blazer was in attendance. He spoke about the Fraternity's new Headquarters in Indianapolis and some of his plans for the Fraternity during his presidency.

- 4. Membership Pins Awarded Members who have been initiated for 25 and 50 years received recognition pins from SWGP Jim Blazer.
- 5. Brother Bob Alessio, a graduate of Washington and Jefferson College, was the featured speaker for Founders Day. Alessio graduated from Washington and Jefferson College in 1966. He attended Duquesne University Law School and Carnegie Mellon University. Bob retired from Digital Equipment Corporation in 2001. Bob is a lifelong competitive and endurance athlete who enjoys outdoor activities and adventures. Bob has ran and biked across America and hopes to encourage and motivate the Brothers to lead a more active physical lifestyle to improve their overall health and fitness.

ROCHESTER AREA ALUMNI ASSOCIATION ROCHESTER AREA ALUMNI ASSOCIATION STEPS IT UP IN 2006

Seventeen brothers gathered for the Rochester Area Alumni Association's Founders Day Lunch held on February 18th at Jeremiah's Tavern. Brothers Maloney and Bojak traveled the furthest, coming all the way from Buffalo, NY to join the festivities. The RAAA held its annual meeting at the luncheon and elected its Board of Governors for 2006. Everyone was delighted that seven Phi Psi alumni from chapters other than NY-Theta attended, including two septuagenarians from Colgate and one from a Colorado chapter. Live ever, die never! The RAAA is putting forth a concerted effort this year to include more alumni from the Rochester area. If you happen to know any please invite them to our events. Particularly the Family Picnic and Softball Game scheduled for Saturday July I I th in Ellison Park. All Phi Psi alumni in good standing are invited to join us at the picnic as well as all RAAA events.

Rochester's AA enjoys their Founders Day meal

RUBBER CITY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Rubber City Alumni Association, in Akron, Ohio, gathered at a private billiard room to celebrate Founders Day 2006. We were pleased to welcome brothers back to Akron from as far away as Atlanta and Chicago. The format for this year's celebration was less formal than in years past, and was well received because it gave us a chance to focus brotherhood. The evening was highlighted by a pool tournament and a little friendly wagering, of course!

We are looking forward to a year filled with activities that allow us to gather and talk about the old times as well as create new memories. The highlight this year will again be our annual golf outing to be held in August. We encourage and welcome the participation of any Phi Psis in the Akron/Cleveland area, so if you're interested send an email to Steve Horgan at HorganS@nskind.com.

SACRAMENTO ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Sacramento Alumni Association Founders Day celebrations for 2006 were joined with the activities of the re-chartering the Cal lota Chapter at the University of Davis, California. The dates of the varied activities — February 17, 18, and 19, were absolutely enjoyed by all who attended.

The Sacramento Alumni Association is implementing several new efforts to bring the Phi Psi Alumni in the area together on a regular basis and enjoy a period of growth. If you are in the local area and haven't been contacted, or are merely visiting this great part of the country, please give us a shout...

ST. LOUIS ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The STL AA's lively and well-attended annual Founder's Day Banquet and meeting was held Feb. 24 at the Cheshire Inn in Clayton. Guests included past SWGP Greg Knapp, Illinois Delta '72, and current SWVGP Steve O'Rourke, Missouri Alpha '74. Many undergrads from Illinois Eta and Missouri

Alpha also attended to help celebrate our brotherhood.

We received an update from Brother Nick Pieri on the condition of Brother Sam Riney, Illinois Eta Founding Father, who was injured while on duty as an Alton, Ill., policeman last December: A recent cosponsored benefit netted over $35,000 for Sam. He's doing better now but still has a long road of rehab ahead.

Our activities over this past year included a summer golf tourney, a Christmas Party hosted by Brother Kevin Kamp, a St. Louis Mardi Gras Party in Soulard hosted by Brother Lochmoeller, a BBQ in honor of five Loyola Phi Psis displaced by Hurricane Katrina we had the pleasure of sponsoring for a semester, and numerous social hours.

Congratulations to the new association officers: Bill Reinecke, President; Joe Freund, VP; Matt Anson, Treasurer; "Wheels" Wiegand, Secretary. Outgoing president, Joe Kaiser, received a copy of our Phi Psi Centennial History as a parting gift along with our thanks.

undergraduate assessment component. In fact, it has usually been undergraduates, rather than alumni, who have made the push to pay more toward this important issue at other fraternities' conventions. If such legislation were to pass at the Grand Arch Council, the Corporation would be assured of continued success. Not only will it have a steady, reliable stream of income, but it will be an investment by the undergraduate membership in the future of housing for the Fraternity.

Despite the best intentions of committed local volunteers nationwide, the fact is that Phi Kappa Psi is being forced out of the housing business. For many men in our strong band, the idea of Fraternity without "fraternity house" is something foreign, but is an idea that they should get used to if action is not taken. While the facility doesn't make the brotherhood by any means, it does enhance the feeling of home provided during the college years for our members. Now is the time to protect Phi Psi homes for future generations of men.

TRENT W. FUCICH, LOUISIANA GAMMA '04

Trent W. Fucich, Louisiana Gamma '04, was tragically stricken with meningitis and died on Feb. 21, 2006. Trent's father submitted the following shortly after his son's death.

Dear Brothers of Phi Kappa Psi:

We attended the Memorial Service in Houston for your brother Trent "T-Money" Fucich. As it was in New Orleans just a few short days ago, many wonderful things were said about YOUR Brother T-Money.

Trent's Mom and I were awestruck by what we heard about our son from his brothers and so many others at Loyola.

If I may, I would be honored if I might share my thoughts with you:

"As I listened to the wonderful words spoken here tonight and earlier this week at Loyola about Trent, I was struck with one overriding question:

Why are we here?

Why have such wonderful things been said here, and in New Orleans, about a young man, who, for all intents and purposes, was unknown to the rest of the world and was just the victim of tragic circumstances.

It's not like Trent was a world leader... its not like Trent was a great philanthropist... he certainly wasn't Mother Theresa....

He was just a normal kid....

So why are we here?

What 'Secret Life of Walter Mitty' did Trent lead, that has resulted in literally thousands of people acknowledging the life of this young man? I had to know.

So I asked. I asked his friends. I asked his teachers. I asked his leaders. I asked his priests. I asked his brothers.

And the answer became clear. The answer was you. Many, many people played a role in making Trent, T-Money, who he was, but is was his brothers in Phi Kappa Psi that took a geeky freshman and turned him into a man who believed and lived the ideals of Phi Psi.

You see, Trent was a made man. He was created by God, but he was made by you. You taught him compassion, you taught him the value of service to others, you gave him inner strength. You taught him to persevere in the face of adversity. You taught him love and you gave him love. You gave him of yourselves. Inside of him IS a piece of every other brother, living and dead.

We made this young man together. Mrs. Fucich and I may have been his biological parents, but you were all his family and you all took your turn in raising him. And for that, we are forever grateful, and for what you made, you should be forever proud."

When Trent asked to pledge a fraternity, our reaction was guarded. I feared the worst: that he wanted to be a BEGGAR. No, Dad, he said, I want to pledge Phi Kappa Psi. Fear was replaced with relief.

Phi Kappa Psi has a long and vaunted tradition of training young men to be men of service and courage.

The goals are the promotion of leadership, citizenship and service among undergraduates for their own personal growth and development and for the continued strength of Phi Psi, their host institutions, communities and the larger society in general.

These are the same goals that we worked to teach Trent at home and through the Boy Scouts. Phi Psi is not just a social club, not just an excuse to have keggers. To be a brother meant that Trent and his fellow brothers took on and accepted the responsibility of caring for each other and for their fellow man, whenever and wherever a need should arise.

We watched as our geeky, anime-loving son turned into just such a man through his brotherhood and the guidance of his brothers of Phi Psi.

Let me share something with you. One of the girls that Trent worked with in the Library wrote this about him on her blog site:

"Trent was a really nice, sweet and funny guy. I didn't know him terribly well, but what I did know of him, I liked. Trent once told me he woke up every morning and said to himself, 'Today is a good day to die.' He said it was very therapeutic and invigorating to think that. You should live your days as if the next may never come."

That, gentlemen, is Phi Psi. You gave him that strength and peace to know that it was ok to go at any time because he was doing his best for his brothers and fellow man.

To the pledges of Phi Kappa Psi and your parents, I want to tell you that our son's life was enriched and engaged by his membership in this brotherhood. We knew many of these boys and even hosted them in our home. We knew that our son was safe in their hands. That they watch out and over each other. The pain of our son's death turned to an inner joy as we experienced the pure love that these young men have for each other. Their grief over his loss was very bit as real and deep as our own. Any of them would have gladly traded places with Trent.

To the brothers, I know these are trying times. Many of you are having doubts, and you are being tested now in many ways. But I think you know that T-Money would not want you to give in to despair, but to keep going.

I'd like to think he'd say: "Dudes, we're Phi Psi Men. Nothing is over until we decide it is! Was it over when the Germans bombed Pearl Harbor? Hell no! And it ain't over now. 'Cause when the going gets tough . . . the tough get going. Who's with me? Let's Go! Come on!"

The point is T-Money hated despair and hated giving in. So when you feel that way, think of Trent. Think of his smile and his can-do attitude. And always remember, you made him that way.

Thank you all so very much for making his short time with you the best years of his life. Through you he truly will Live Ever! Die Never!

God Bless you and keep you, David, Margot & Courtney Fucich Proud Parents of Trent Wise Fucich Phi Kappa Psi Brother for Eternity

ROBERT M. MCINTYRE CALIFORNIA EPSILON '48

Robert M. McIntyre, a former president and chairman of Southern California Gas Co. who won wide recognition for his civic work, particularly projects that sought to strengthen ties with local minority communities, died Sunday at a hospital near his Newport Beach home. McIntyre began at the utility in 1952, when he was hired as a salesman. A native of Portland, Ore. he served in a variety of managerial positions before being named president in 1980 and chairman in 1985. He retired in 1989. As chairman, he was credited with leading the gas company through the energy crisis of the 1980s, when natural gas prices soared. "He made a dramatic change in the way we communicated with our customers," said Pat Garner, the utility's vice president of public affairs at the time. "We became very forthright in explaining why the cost of gas was rising, what the gas company was doing about it and what customers could do as well." McIntyre also was a key member of a generation of local business leaders, including Lodwrick Cook of Arco and Roy Anderson of Lockheed, who led the corporate community in the 1980s with their deep sense of civic duty and commitment to corporate philanthropy. "Bob truly believed that businesses benefited from extensive community involvement, and the gas company became a key player in the community under his leadership," said Peter V. Ueberroth, who was president of the Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee for the 1984 Games. McIntyre served under Ueberroth as a member of the committee. "He was just a really decent human being," said Antonia Hernandez, president of the California Community Foundation, who led the Mexican American Legal Defense and Educational Fund when McIntyre helped with donations for leadership development programs and headed benefits for the group. Hernandez described him as "extremely humble, unassuming and ... just extremely approachable," as well as gregarious. "He had a real gusto for life and learning. When you were with him, it was like, 'Tell me what's going on." McIntyre's community work brought him a number of honors, including the Outstanding Service Award from MALDEF, a Humanitarian Award from the National Conference of Christians and lews and the Roy Wilkins Award from the Los Angeles chapter of the NAACP. The Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce gives the annual Robert M. McIntyre Award to recognize individuals for their leadership skills. McIntyre also served on then-Gov. George Deukmejian's advisory panel for the University of California Regents, which consulted with the governor on candidates for the UC governing board. McIntyre was a 1950 graduate of UCLA, where he received a bachelor's degree in geography. After leaving the gas company, McIntyre retired to Orange County and learned to paint with watercolors. Whenever he sold a painting, he donated the proceeds to Newport Beach's Hoag Hospital. He also headed the hospital's foundation for six years. During his tenure, he helped raised $23 million to pay for projects such as the Hoag Cancer Center. He is survived by his wife Marilyn, daughter Julie, and two grandchildren.

ROBERT M. BARTON KANSAS ALPHA '41

Robert M. Barton, Kansas Alpha '41, died in Newport Beach, California on December 12, 2005, after a long battle with Progressive Supranuclear Palsy (PSP), akin to Parkinson's disease. He was born in Jacksonville, Fla., April 4, 1922. His parents were James and Annie. He graduated from Southwest High School in Kansas City, the University of Kansas and Michigan Law School (with honors). Among the entities were those of Michigan Law Review, Head Waiter in the dining hall, his college Fraternity Phi Kappa Psi

(President), the California Committee of Bar Examiners (President), Junior Barristers (President), Bar Examiners (President), Junior Barristers (President). He was a director of many small corporations and a few large ones, notably Financial Federation, Financial Corporation of America, Statham Instruments and Jacobs Engineering, all NYSE corporations. He later left the law firm of O'Melveny & Myers to set out on his own. He was senior partner of Barton Klugman & Getting. He leaves his wife Helen, and sons Robert Jr. (Janine), and Lawrence (Sandra) and two grandchildren, Tyler and Mackenzie. Personal interests included travel, golf, tennis and fishing. He was a good sport and was devoted to his family.

Jack Evans passed away on Aug. 12, 2005, at the age of 90. He was born in Emerson, lowa on March 15, 1915, during a driving blizzard, although he claimed to have only limited memory of the occasion. Jack said that his earliest memory was when he was 3 years old. It was the Victory Parade in Emerson on Nov. 11, 1918 marking the end of WW I. His Dad's yellow Republic truck was in the parade and had a gunnysack swinging from the back. The gunnysack was supposed to contain Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany.

Jack learned to drive at age 12 when he borrowed his father's 1924 Model T and drove it around in the pasture until he ran it into a ditch. Six years later, Jack and his brother, Marion, took their father's 1931 Chevrolet to Winnipeg, Canada, to visit a friend. At Winnipeg, they decided to see other parts of North America. By the end of the summer they had visited 41 states plus Alaska and traveled through five provinces of Canada and two provinces of Mexico on a tip that covered 17,000 miles. They planned to do South America the next summer, but parental restrictions were applied.

Jack joined Phi Kappa Psi at Iowa State (Iowa Beta), where his uncle, Volney Evans, had been a charter member. Jack's father, John Evans, and another uncle, Frank Evans, were both Phi Psis at Michigan Alpha. Over the years, more than two dozen family members became Phi Psis at Michigan Alpha, Iowa Alpha and Iowa Beta.

After graduating from Iowa State, Jack moved to a I 60-acre farm, known as Rose Creek Ridge, where one of his father's tenants had left sometime earlier. The farmhouse had no electricity, no running water and was badly in need of repair. Jack hired two carpenters and received some help from a friend named Les Carson. One of the carpenters, who were being paid by the hour, liked to spend an hour in the dilapidated outhouse right after lunch reading the Sears catalog. So, one day Jack grabbed the shotgun and Les grabbed a shovel full of gravel and they went to the backside of the occupied outhouse. Les yelled, "Don't point that shotgun this way. It might go off." Then Jack fired the gun into the ground and Les threw the gravel at the backside of the outhouse. The carpenter ejected himself from the outhouse with the Sears catalog in his hand and while trying to pull up his pants with the other. He only made very brief visits to the outhouse thereafter.

Jack married Margaret Young on November 19, 1939. They moved into the newly remodeled farmhouse at Rose Creek Ridge. Eventually, they had four children, including David, the oldest, who was initiated into Iowa Beta in 1960. Other children were Nancy, John and Thomas.

In World War II, Jack was exempt from the draft because he was farming, but one night, in 1945, he got into an argument with an uncle who had become head of the draft board. The next week, Jack received a draft notice, so he enlisted in the Army Air Crops (later to become the Air Force). He was inducted 28 July 1945, just before the end of the war in the Pacific, at a pay rate of $20.90 per month. He went through officers' candidate school and served three years — first in the Philippines and then in Okinawa. After active duty, he remained in the reserves until 1957, when he was honorably discharged from the US Air Force as a captain.

After the war, Jack worked for Union Carbide and subsequently held a variety of positions with several companies. One of the highlights of Jack's life came after the Emerson, lowa, flood of 1982. Jack was mayor of Emerson, having been elected on a write-in ballot. When the town could get no Federal aid to rebuild, lack applied for foreign aid to 23 countries that had received aid from the US. Although he did not receive any foreign aid, an Omaha TV station did a story on the subject and it was picked up nationally. Then, CBS brought Jack to New York to appear on Good Morning America. The city finally received $468,000 in aid from the state of lowa. The city, however, was required to build a dike on the east end of town to prevent a reoccurrence of the flood. The Corps of Engineers agreed to pay half, but the city had to pay the other half. For their half, the city agreed to contribute the land, the dirt for the dike and the repaving of the highway. Jack got the land donated, the dirt donated and the county to pave the road, reducing the cost of Emerson's half to zero.

Jack was active in several organizations including the Masonic Lodge, the Elks Club, the Optimists, the Nebraska Concrete Pipe Association, PTA, the Red Oak (Iowa) Country Club, and many activities at the First Congregational Church. He was also active in the Republican Party.

He may be best remembered for his keen sense of humor. He loved to tell stories. He was a relentless reader and seemed to know something about a very wide range of subjects. His family and many other people have fond memories of Jack.

DALE J. MCKNIGHT WASHINGTON ALPHA '32

Brother McKnight died peacefully Oct. 7, 2005, with his three children by his side, Ann Kittelberger and Margaret Monteith of Rochester, N.Y., and Jim McKnight, Ohio Beta '72, of Washington, Vt. Dale was born on April 15, 1913, in Milton, Ore., the son of blacksmith James D. McKnight and Elizabeth Walsh McKnight. He had a sister Ruth Galka who predeceased him. The family moved to Tacoma, Wash. about 1919, and the influenza epidemic sweeping the country killed his father when Dale was only 6-and-a-half years old. The year before, his father had taught him to read, which Dale always considered his greatest gift. After graduating from Stadium High School, he entered the University of Washington, and needing a place to live, selected the newly built beautiful Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity house as that place. When asked when he wanted to join, Dale replied "Now. I don't have a place to sleep tonight!" Upon graduation, career plans were put on hold as the nation prepared for World War II. He joined the Navy, and spent most of that time on a sub chaser in the North Atlantic. While on the East Coast in 1935, he met Josephine Blake, a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Wells College. They were married in 1937, and all who knew the couple admired them. Josephine would frequently challenge Dale's opinions. When he'd ask her why, she'd simply reply, "Because you're wrong!" followed by laughter. He would marvel that she could do the New York Times crossword puzzle, in ink, while bouncing through the waves in their boat! Theirs was a truly loving relationship that lasted 54 years until her death in 1991. Most of Dale's professional life was spent with Lackawanna Leather Company in New Jersey, first as Vice-President of Sales & Marketing. He became fast friends with many of his loyal customers, including Bill Lear, designer of the Lear Jet and founder of the business jet industry. Lackawanna became one of the largest suppliers of dyed leather in the country. About the time that Naugahyde synthetic leather fabric was introduced,

Dale became President and moved the product line into leather substitutes. A little later, he had a near-fatal heart attack, and decided to retire at the age of 60. As a side interest, he then taught in the Business School at Rutgers University as an Associate Professor, and was active in the local Red Cross Chapter. His son lim recalls: "I drove down to visit them when they lived in Summit, N.I. Before I could get out of the car, dad asked 'How's your health?' and off we went to a blood drawing." Dale fondly remembered his Phi Psi undergraduate days, when he and Rudd Lawrence, Washington Alpha '31, (later to become Vice-President, New York Stock Exchange) were roommates. He became one of the first contributors to the Chapter Scholarship Fund in 1989. In his honor, the chapter established a Dale McKnight Most Improved Scholastics Award, presented each Founders Day in perpetuity. Even in his last year of declining health, he kept a framed drawing of the house in his room, sent to him by the latest recipient of the award. In 1991, Dale visited the chapter house. Matt Anglin, Washington Alpha '90, remembers that visit: "He was impressed how I was caring for the yard. Shortly, a big box of red Dutch tulip bulbs arrived addressed to me. I planted them and they continued to bloom each spring for several years."

He was a much-decorated military officer who served in three wars before becoming a volunteer whose causes ranged from the Maritime Museum of San Diego to the Scripps Clinic's Green Cancer Center in La Jolla, Calif. Retired Lt. Gen. Louis Metzger first distinguished himself as U.S. Marine, then as a family man and civic leader. In his postwar years, the longtime La Jolla resident enjoyed reading, tending a rose garden and writing for military journals. He expressed affinity for - in no particular order - flying, polo, horses and dogs. Gen. Metzger died July 28, 2005, of congestive heart failure, his family members said. He was 88. Gen. Metzger was born in 1916 to a prosperous family in San Francisco. After graduating from Stanford University in 1939 with a degree in economics, he accepted a commission as a Marine Corps officer. It would be the defining moment of his life. "He really loved the ethos of the Marine Corps, the feeling of being among America's best and the diverse assignments he had during his career," said one of his three sons, Peter Metzger, also a former Marine. In 1942, Gen. Metzger, then a lieutenant, married his college sweetheart, Jane Thornton of Lincoln, Neb. They were together 54 years until her death from cancer in 1994. Gen. Metzger was sent into World War Il the day after his first son, Dirk, was born. He didn't return to his family for nearly three years. At age 26, he became a battalion commander, serving on the front lines in the battles for the Marshall Islands, Guam and Okinawa. "He was a very unusual and very brave man. His main strength: loyalty. He believed an ounce of loyalty was worth a pound of cleverness," said retired Lt. Gen. Victor "Brute" Krulak, 92, of Pacific Beach. "He served as my subordinate in many operations and I was never disappointed. He was, by all means, my best friend." Gen. Metzger took command of an armored amphibious battalion and volunteered to lead the first wave of the assault on Okinawa, Krulak said. As World War II came to a close, Gen. Metzger served as chief of staff for the Third Fleet Landing Force during the initial landing and surrender of Japan in August 1945. Later assigned to northern China, he functioned as division operations officer for the unit that accepted the surrender of the 32nd Japanese Army. He was on a ship in Tokyo Bay on Sept. 2, 1945, the day the Japanese formally surrendered in a ceremony aboard the battleship Missouri. During the Korean War, Gen. Metzger commanded two battalions and served as assistant operations officer for the 1st Marine Division. After the Korean conflict, he accepted an assignment as assistant naval attaché to the American Embassy in London from 1954-56. He was promoted to colonel in 1955. He graduated from the National War College in 1960. Afterward, he accepted assignments as chief of staff at Camp Pendleton and deputy assistant chief of staff at Headquarters for U.S. Forces in Japan. During the Vietnam War, Gen. Metzger served two tours of duty - as assistant division commander of the 3rd Marine Division and then as commander of the 3rd Marine Amphibious Force. In his early 50s, as a general, Gen. Metzger went to flight school and became a helicopter pilot so he "could look his men in the eye and talk to them about their business with first-hand knowledge," Krulak recalled. Gen. Metzger retired from the Marine Corps in 1973, after 34 years of service. "He was a very successful civilian," Krulak said. "He very quickly acquired the reputation of being both an erudite and reliable man." Gen. Metzger's second career as civic volunteer and leader included a stint as foreman of the San Diego grand jury, president of the San Diego Museum of Art, chairman of the board of the Convention and Visitors Bureau and director of the Maritime Museum of San Diego. He was also appointed as a trustee for some high-profile bankruptcy cases, including the one resulting from the J. David & Co. scandal. "Leadership by example was important to him," said his son Scott Metzger. "He was an optimist and extremely resilient. He got along very well with a broad range of people." Gen. Metzger is survived by his wife of 10 years, Joan; sons Dirk and Scott, both lawyers in San Diego; son Peter of Washington, D.C.; six grandchildren; and two greatgrandchildren.

In retirement, Mr. Boyd's permanent residence was in Pentwater, Mich., where he stayed annually from May to October. But he had a place in Sylvania, where he stayed from October to January, and in Kailua-Kona, Hawaii, where he was from January to May. He long had an interest in the creative and artistic. He loved the theater - he paid his 25th annual visit this summer to the Stratford Festival in Ontario - and opera. He played bridge regularly with friends. Mr. Boyd was secretary of the former Committee of 100 and was a past board member of Goodwill Industries. He was a former director and secretary of the American Cancer Society's Lucas County unit. The 1852 Society

UIFI is a five day co-educational program that brings fraternity and sorority leaders together and teaches leadership skills, creates awareness of important issues, and calls on each graduate of the program to lead a change initiative within his or her Greek community. And one Phi Psi, Luke Gustafson, Tennessee '04, is one of the 4,600 undergraduate fraternity brothers that have experienced UIFI from both a participant and facilitator's perspective.

During his time with UIRI, Luke found that while the two roles are different, the program and "journey" are the same. Luke was a Global Politics and Economy major at the University of Tennessee at Knoxville and just finished his term as president of the Tennessee Epsilon Chapter. During his time in office Luke boasts that he doubled the size of his chapter, making the largest pledge class ever. And while Luke takes some credit for this accomplishment, he also credits his involvement in UIFI.

You get those one-on-one discussions with participants that are starting that are starting to 'get it.' It's an amazing experience!"

 -40° 99229 oT, or hr = 1

Being at UIFI in two different roles gave Luke two separate experiences. "As a participant you are going through a very atructured process. This process is designed to progress and build upon things already established. As an intern, you have already been through that process and have gotten to the end result. What's vital as an intern is to trust the process, and support it so it will be the most effective for the participants," Luke said.

"When I became a brother, I took oaths that I swore to uphold the values of Phi Kappa Psi. When I do things in contradiction to these values, I am not living up to what it means to be a Phi Psi – a man of excellence," Luke said.

Luke was forever changed after attending UIFI and soon after he decided to travel to Phi Psi chapter houses and talk about his experiences. When he spoke at different chapters, he pointed out the importance of "living your Ritual," stating that it shouldn't only be something done when new members are brought into the organization, but incorporated into their everyday lives. He also talked about the idea of "earning your Badge," saying that it shouldn't be just during your pledge semester, that it should extend well past that.

With all Luke learned from UIFI, he is hoping to work as an Educational Leadership Consultant for the Fraternity to fulfill his strong sense of civic duty. He hopes one day to work for an International company with the opportunity to travel and live abroad.

Pennsylvania Beta Chapter

Every year Allegheny College celebrates Make A Difference Day, when all of the students and student organizations on campus converge on the town to help its residents and businesses. Motivated by the Phi Psi 500 initiative, where every chapter is asked to perform 500 hours of community service a year, and striving to abide by the Fraternity's motto, "The Great Joy of Serving Others," the brothers of Pennsylvania Beta spent "The Great Joy of Serving on a variety of projects.

One of these projects was helping an elderly and recently-widowed local resident, Christine Allison, clean up her 87-acre farm and help her pack in preparation for her move to Tennessee to be closer to her family. Drew Peterson, the chapter's resident adviser, knew Allison because his father had worked with her late husband. When he learned that she needed a great deal of help to prepare for her move, his first thought was to go to the chapter and propose that they provide the help she needed. The decision to help Allison was readily and easily made.

A STAND

"Phi Psi 500 is the benchmark of the Fraternity, and like many things in Phi Psi it's a tradition we love to maintain," said Colin Morgan, Allegheny '03, also the Student Government President.

Fifteen Pennsylvania Betans spent the entire day working on Allison's farm, spending time with her and learning about her and her late husband's life together.

"She showed us pictures of her husband's motorcycles and the trips they took," Peterson said. "She was so incredibly thankful that a group of college students could take time out of a day to do this. We were glad we could help, to make her happy for a little bit of time."

"It was fantastic, what a nice bunch of kids," Allison said. "I never heard them say anything bad, they were all very polite. We had a good time; they're a good group of young men."

But the chapter did not spend the day only working on Allison's farm, and did not offer their services to the local community only during Make a Difference Day; already this year they have built three handicapped ramps at Allegheny residents' homes who needed the ramps but could not afford to build them themselves.

"Community service was instilled in my pledge class as a pillar of Penn Beta, and it is a very rewarding feeling instilling it in classes that followed," said Frank Palermo, Allegheny 'O3, outgoing chapter president.

Laurel Hall Brick Campaign

Imagine visiting Laurel Hall and seeing your name among the greats of your Fraternity. A gift of $250 will allow you to show your support in a highly visible and meaningful way. When you purchase a brick for the pathways of Laurel Hall, you're investing in far more than the sidewalk, patio or drive. You are supporting student scholarships and educational programs that will take place at Phi Psi's new education and learning center.

Name yourself or pay tribute to your family. Bricks can be purchased to commemorate any number of occasions. What a great way to honor a pledge brother, recognize your pledge class, record a special occasion, or honor a loved one. Bricks will be four inches by eight inches and allow for up to three lines of engraving with a maximum of 18 characters per line. A limited number of bricks are available so order early – and order as many as you like!

Your brick will be part of the permanent walkways and plazas that connect the building to the greater property. Surrounded by six acres of wooded and landscaped grounds, Laurel Hall will provide a comprehensive mix of education and training resources for the 21st century. By purchasing a commemorative brick you not only will mark your place in history, but your contribution also provides the financial support to achieve our mission – to foster the development of leaders and to promote academic excellence in higher education.

Brick by brick, we can build a strong foundation and provide a sense of pride, a sense of purpose and a first class presence for Phi Psi for generations to come. To cement your place in Phi Psi history, contact the Endowment Fund at (800) 350-1852.

And built a bridge to span the tide. The sullen stream had no fears for him; The old man crossed in the twilight dim; Through which was flowing a sullen tide. To a chasm, vast and deep and wide,

But he turned when safe on the other side

You never again must pass this way; Your journey will end with the ending day; "Old man," said a fellow pilgrim near,

".mid not egbind the bridge for him." He, too, must cross in the twilight dim; "Good friend, in the path I have come," he said, being most rewarding is the knowledge they are making an impact on the lives of undergraduate Phi Pais, there are also other associated benefits. Each member of the society receives newsletters, invitations to special donor appreciation events, advance registration for Fraternity events, a special certificate, lapel pin and has his name displayed on the Donor Wall of Honor at Laurel Hall. In this way, we do more to thank those brothers who have made a vital annual commitment to aupport and play a crucial role in the future of our Fraternity.

A SPECIAL THANK YOU...

A special thank you is due to the more than 2,200 alumi, undergraduates, family and friends who took the opportunity to support Phi Psi in 2005.

The dedication of these individuals each and every year makes the work of the Endowment Fund possible. With this support, the Endowment Fund is able to provide exceptional leadership and scholarship programs that have a direct impact on Phi Psis.

The following list, in chapter order, reflects the many brothers, family, friends and corporations who have made gifts to the Endowment Fund between January 1 and December 31, 2005. It is the support of these dedicated individuals that allowed the Foundation to enrich the lives of young men across the country and throughout world.

Through your generosity, brothers have completed their studies, attended the Woodrow Wilson Leadership School, and appreciated our heritage through our new educational and training center – Laurel Hall. Times have changed since our founding, and the programming objectives and funding priorities of the Foundation to remain clear and relevant. Thank you for helping us continue to perform our mission of developing leaders and promoting academic excellence in higher education.

FINANCIAL OVERVIEW

Fiscal year 2005 was a great success! Phi Psi alumni, family, friends and good investment performance pushed the Endowment Fund's total assets to more than $35 million, against liabilities of just under $11 million, for net assets of $24,411,095. Along the way, we were able to purchase a historic building, conference and education center for our new Fraternity Headquarters and secure our future for decades to come. The following pre-audit report provides greater detail on an excellent year.

The Endowment Fund's Annual Campaign encourages investments to either the unrestricted corpus or to specific chapter scholarship funds. The campaign uses direct mailings, phone contact, chapter and area alumni events, email and the national website to solicit and receive gifts. Each donor receives a thank you letter confirming his investment and a tax receipt shortly after the end of each year. Those achieving certain lifetime gift levels receive additional recognition. The 2005 annual campaign, ending December 31, 2005, resulted in 1,516 unrestricted gifts totaling $270,583.80, compared to last year's 1,196 gifts are the most totaling $171,989.88. That's a 79% increase in participation – a very welcome improvement! Unrestricted gifts are the most important gifts to the long-term success of the Endowment Fund. They provide support for vital student scholarships, leadership programming, area alumni events and the Foundation's operating budget. There were 1,409 gifts made to Chapter Scholarship prodraming, area alumni events and the Foundation's operating budget. There were 1,409 gifts made to Chapter Scholarship Funds (CSF) during the fiscal year, totaling $1,094,967. These gifts are restricted for the benefit of specific chapters and cannot be otherwise appropriated.

The purchase of Laurel Hall in 2005 marked the start of a campaign to renovate and improve the building. An initial $1 million was raised in 48 hours for the purchase, and additional gifts of over $750,000 had been raised before the end of the year. These gifts will underwrite the costs of repairs and renovations to this magnificent asset, purchase quality furnishings for the public areas and make possible modern technology updates for office and educational areas. In addition, a $395,000 transfer was received from the Hudson Institute, previous owner of Laurel Hall, as an endowment for the Ruth Lilly Conference Center. PRESIDENTS LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

The Endowment Fund takes a serious approach to fraternity life and wants all Phi Psi undergraduates to have a positive collegiate and alumni experience. The Presidents Leadership Academy (PLA) is a cutting-edge leadership program and the program's primary development program for all of Phi Psi's chapter and colony presidents. A model within the Greek world, the program's primary purpose is to assist chapter presidents in furthering their abilities to lead within their chapters and on their respective campuses by creating and fostering a non-hierarchical social model.

Since 1995, the PLA has grown to attract nearly 90 undergraduate and alumni attendees each summer. The enduring popularity of the program is a testament to its unique content. At the heart of the program is the assumption that people can learn to live and lead with integrity.

Hosted in Indianapolis, Indiana at Laurel Hall, Phi Psi's new education center, the three day curriculum provides incredible opportunities for personal growth. PLA also allows each of our presidents to create a game plan for how they want to lead their brothers in the coming year. The intensive program takes Phi Psi collegians through a program of fraternal values, leading with increasing chapter motivation, team building, effective confrontation and service learning.

The Presidents Leadership Academy is one of several programs made possible through annual grants made to the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity for qualifying portions of conventions, leadership academies, workshops, speakers and retreats for chapter advisors and house corporation presidents and other leadership training activities that support scholarship, leadership and service. During 2005, the Foundation provided grants totaling just over $213,000 to underwrite such programs.

Established in 1999, the Fraternity Educators Leadership Academy (FELA) is the only leadership program of its kind in the Interfraternal world. Bringing together top student leadership program of its kind in the Interfaction, FELA is a total-immersion leadership experience. Through highly interactive and energizing programming, participants gain the knowledge to lead high-performing teams and learn the concepts of a values-based education model. Throughout the academy, strong emphasis is placed on team building, motivation, personal values, leading with integrity and the importance of collaboration.

The Butler University ropes course was adopted as the basis of this year's Fraternity Educators Leadership Academy. The ropes course was used as an adventure medium for teaching and giving participants experiences through physical expression and the introduction of challenge. The course involves a series of individual and group challenges that require a combination of teamwork and individual commitment with the goals of building awareness, trust, enhancing self-concept, and team building, which have applications throughout one's fraternal experience. The participants do not need to possess special skills or their own equipment, and in this way, the course is a very equalizing experience. The ropes course is used as a medium to access and promote a positive self-concept, enhance the development of self-reliance, self-discipline, judgment, and responsibility and offer the potential for growth in physical, emotional and intellectual domains.

Our philosophy holds that the physical experiences on the challenge course have great potential to be empowering metaphors, sometimes discreet, sometimes profound, but ever present.

These physical experiences become meaningful when this empowerment is articulated through discussions both during and after the time spent on the course. The course is intended to be a place to lay the groundwork for learning new life skills, building self-confidence and strengthening phi Psi bonds.

Large group activities and sessions set the tone and provide motivation for the entire FELA experience. Together, participants are exposed to new programs and ideas and are given the opportunity to apply the lessons of the activities to their future Fraternity involvement. Undergraduates learn from each other, stretch their boundaries, seek new insight, discover personal strengths and learn the fundamentals of being an educator and role model.

Participants are divided into smaller groups, which are guided by volunteer alumni and Headquarters staff. These smaller interactions help participants personalize the learning outcomes of the large sessions and sid participants as they explore the inner workings of their chapters' member education programs. This support group serves as a sounding board and motivational force for each person while attending the academy and when he returns back to campus. Undergraduates spend time discussing learning systems as well as how they can implement this information into their chapters and campus communities.

The Endowment Fund is committed to funding programs that promote the leadership development of our members. The Foundation underwrites portions of the Fraternity's leadership and educational sessions and provides speakers at the Woodrow Wilson Leadership School (WWLS). The WWLS is held on alternate summers from the Grand Arch Council. Summer of 2005 brought a record-breaking 212 undergraduate and alumni members to the University of Nevada, Las Vegas to enhance their leadership skills. Through the curriculum, participants learn how they can develop their own specific leadership style. The WWLS seeks to model the best practices for our undergraduates, and to this end provides an experience in community service as participants provide a day of service to charitable organizations. Task-oriented seminars for specific chapter officers are presented, and complimented by interactive sessions on everything from building ethical and effective teams to confronting and resolving conflicts.

ENDOWMENT FUND TRUSTEES

The Endowment Fund is guided by a board of fourteen very dedicated members. Trustees of the Endowment Fund are elected to a six-year term of service. Ultimately, they work to fulfill the mission of the Foundation – to foster the development of leaders and to promote academic excellence in higher education. Trustees serve at their own expense and support the Endowment Fund through their time, travel and financial investment. Two new Trustees joined the board during 2005. Kent P. Newmark, Cal '57, joined the board in April, and Fred A. Hegele, Ohio State '63, was appointed in November. The Foundation will miss the valuable guidance of A. Scott Noble, Texas '81, who left the Board in March.

Two-Thousand Five was a very exciting year for the Endowment Fund!

Dozens of gifts made an immediate impact when they made possible the purchase of Laurel Hall, our new Headquarters, conference center and his been over 25 years since we raised funds for our first headquarters and alumni and friends were ready to respond.

Over the course of the year, we have positioned ourselves to become the preeminent Fraternity and Foundation in the nation, with unmatched resources to support leadership and educational programming, host fraternal and community events and serve as a museum for the organization's archives and historical artifacts. We were in the right place at the right time and had the backing to take advantage of this remarkable opportunity.

This past year also saw an increase in the total number of contributors to the Foundation as well as an increase in the number of gifts made to the Foundation's Alumni Support Program. Wherever you look in Phi Psi, good news abounds! It seems that almost daily we are learning about our fellow Phi Psi brothers who are making their mark on their communities and the world. This is a very exciting time for Phi Psi. It is our members who make this world. This is a very exciting time for Phi Psi. It is our members who make this pratemity such a phenomenal brotherhood.

On the pages that follow, you will meet several alumni who have supported the Endowment Fund and some of the undergraduate brothers who have benefited from their support. The Phi Psi experience certainly has made its mark on these brothers – providing them the opportunity to lead, teaching them to resolve conflicts, developing their analytical skills and offering them the training to be productive citizens and leaders within their chapters, campuses and communities.

Again, thank you to all of you who invested in the Endowment Fund and our programs. Your investment continues to be in very good hands. I also encourage those of you who have not included Phi Psi in your charitable giving plans to reconsider – to reengage your Fraternity and to recommit yourself to the lifelong brotherhood you once pledged.

Together, we are making a difference in the lives of our undergraduate members. I hope you enjoy reading about the programs we support and look lives that we have changed. I am proud to serve as your chairman and look forward, with your help, to another outstanding year!

With warmest fraternal regards,
