A LETTER FROM OUR PRESIDENT

Dear Brothers in Phi Kappa Psi,

In January we lost Mr. Phi Psi, and there will never be one to replace him. My hope is that we will carry the Fraternity forward in a way that would embody the principles that Dud stood for and exemplified in his life. I first met Dud in 1962 and, by example, he defined for me and my colony brothers what Phi Kappa Psi is all about. I believe he had a similar impact on every Phi Psi he met from 1948 to 2011. His guidance is not lost; rather it is now a living legacy infused throughout Phi Kappa Psi.

When Dud retired, President Sandy Chamberlain wrote a tribute to Dud in his President's Letter in the fall, 1979, issue of The Shield. That tribute is reproduced elsewhere in this issue. I can't top what Sandy said then, but I can say that for the next 32 years, Dud continued to embody everything that a Phi Psi gentleman should be.

I said that there will never be one to replace him, but there certainly are many who, having learned from him, carry the torch of Phi Psi forward as certainly and as proudly as did Dud. His proudest legacy would be that we all benefited from our association with him and thereby, Phi Psi has become stronger and more dedicated to the ideals on which it is based. We can remember Dud by our actions as Phi Psis, measuring ourselves against him.

Looking ahead, our growth plan is proceeding well, and we will be installing several new chapters in the coming year. But, heeding Dud's advice, we must not sacrifice quality for quantity. We must remain true to our founding principles. As we expand, we continue to expect more, both from our colonies and from our existing chapters. During this biennium, we are focusing on:

- Scholarship
- Community Service
- Mentoring

I call on all our alumni to look for ways to serve the Fraternity, especially in support of our active chapters and colonies in these three areas of emphasis. Of these, mentoring is probably the one most accessible to many alumni. Don't be afraid to join in a mentoring program for a chapter near you. It does not have to be your own chapter. You will find your young brothers extraordinarily open and receptive to the brotherly support you can offer them. They need you and you will, in turn, benefit from the experience. Give it a try; you won't regret it.

Fraternally,

THANK YOU FOR READING THE SHIELD

DID YOU KNOW?

- Production of The Shield accounts for more than 10 percent of the entire Fraternity's operating budget.
- Phi Kappa Psi is one of the few remaining Greek organizations that still mails a full-color, quarterly magazine to all of its alumni members.
- Starting with the Spring 2009 issue, The Shield has been available, fully searchable at phikappapsi.com/alumniupdate/theshield, often uploaded weeks before it arrives in mailboxes.
- With the right combination of savings, donations and/or investment, we can digitally archive every issue of The Shield, dating back to Volume 1 in 1879, and make it fully searchable for all of our members.

As we alluded to in the Winter 2011 issue, we are in the process of rolling out a plan that would decrease the circulation of our magazine. Preliminary estimates are that total circulation of the magazine will decrease by about 60 percent. The content and features will stay the same, but the realized savings will allow us to do much more. And, contrary to some opinion, NOBODY will stop receiving this magazine if they choose not to.

DON'T WORRY, YOU WILL STILL RECEIVE THE SHIELD, IF...

- You have ever served as a nationally elected or appointed officer
- You have served as a local volunteer or chapter officer in the past 20 years
- You have donated any amount to the Phi Kappa Psi Foundation (including Chapter Scholarship Funds) or Phi Kappa Psi Loyalty Fund in the last 20 years
- You want to! As alluded to previously, we are happy to continue mailing the magazine to any member who notifies us of his desire to continue receiving The Shield. You can do so by calling 1-800-486-1852 or email Shield@phikappapsi.com. Be sure to consider the criteria above, as you may already be setup to continue receiving your printed subscription.

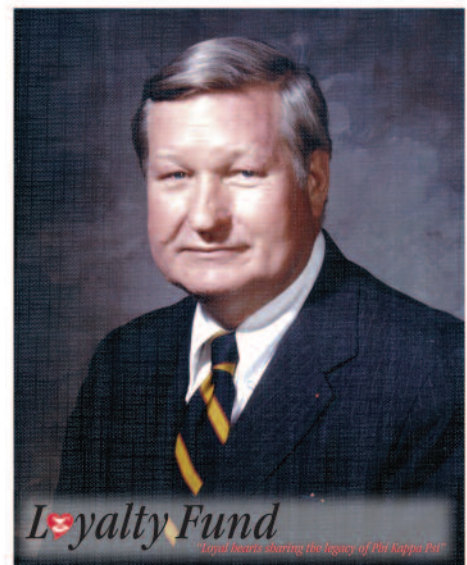

THE LOYALTY FUND HELP US CONTINUE TO PROVIDE A MEANINGFUL GREEK EXPERIENCE

While Phi Kappa Psi is incredibly fortunate to have an educational foundation that provides hundreds-of-thousands of dollars annually to fund several Fraternity programs, much of what we provide to our members, undergraduates and alumni alike, is not considered 100 percent educational. In fact, most of our programming and resources for alumni is not recognized as fundable with tax-deductible gifts. That's why we need you! The Loyalty Fund is here to allow our members to donate to the Fraternity 'from the heart,' and see projects come to life. Your gift could help us in a number of areas:

- Grand Arch Council Programming
- Digitally Archiving Every Issue of The Shield
- Increasing Alumni Volunteer Programming and Training

Your gift counts! Please consider making a gift by filling out the lines below and returning this slip to Phi Kappa Psi, 5395 Emerson Way, Indianapolis, IN 46226

A GENTLEMAN BEFORE HIS TIME

By Will Haskett Butler '00, Director of Communications

Here at The Shield, we have let the voice of our presidents do the point-of-view talking for us. And while I don't intend for this to be the start of a reoccurring feature, the passing of Ralph "Dud" Daniel, "Mr. Phi Psi," inspired me to share.

This issue is dedicated to Dud—for all of the reasons that it should. By no means do I consider myself qualified to provide a vivid memory of Dud. (There are plenty of those in this issue by people who had the privilege of knowing him far better than I did.) Instead, I am writing this as a "young" Phi Psi; somebody who only knew Dud from a pledge quiz but then had the great fortune of getting to know him as a man in his later years. This issue is not just dedicated to the memory of Dud, but to the lasting execution of Dud's principles....

Dud Daniel was initiated into the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity in 1947 and would go to work for our Fraternity one year later. Ironically, it was at that 1948 Grand Arch Council, when Dud was hired to work for Phi Psi, that one of our Fraternity's darkest moments would take place.

In the winter of 1948, a young man named Thomas Gibbs pledged at the Massachusetts Alpha (Amherst) Chapter of Phi Kappa Psi. It was historic for the men of Amherst, not to mention Phi Kappa Psi, because Mr. Gibbs was African-American. The alumni of the chapter gave their blessing, but many in the Fraternity would not. His proposed membership was contested by nearly half of all chapters nationwide as many filed protests with the Executive Council, writing letters that are still too inappropriate in language to print today.

The 1948 GAC would not solve, or even vote on, the issue, returning it to the hands of the Executive Council, whose board almost completely turned over at the GAC, leaving a group of leaders not comfortable with what the ramifications of Gibbs' initiation might do to the overall Fraternity. The council would eventually remove the charter of Mass. Alpha, officially citing the uncomfortable amount of media attention the story got, and Thomas Gibbs would never become a member of the National Fraternity. (It should be noted that the media attention was due, in large part, to the fact that Phi Psi was the first Greek organization to attempt such a move, at a time when integration was a hot-button issue.)

That decision was a huge blow for Phi Kappa Psi, who at the time was considered one of the more progressive Greek organizations around. While other Greek organizations certainly had moments of discrimination, the ramifications within Phi Psi were greater because a new precedent was set in an organization governed by documents that made no mention of prejudice.

Besides losing a strong chapter at Amherst, Dartmouth (New Hampshire Alpha) would surrender their charter in 1967 following the same sort of opposition (by this time, the Fraternity's government allowed the pledging, but the damage was already done), coupled with lingering distrust of the National Fraternity. This disagreement of philosophies created quite an uncomfortable time frame for Phi Kappa Psi. I've had the pleasure of speaking with some disenchanted members of our Dartmouth chapter over the past few years, and many, unfortunately, still associate racism with Phi Kappa Psi.

So, what does any of this have to do with Dud? Well, for starters, this issue of the magazine was, at first, going to tell the entire story of Thomas Gibbs (who passed away last year) and highlight the growth of Phi Kappa Psi to a Fraternity today that condemns discrimination and welcomes men of strong character—regardless of race or any other characteristic.

Brother Daniel's passing has taken over the feature space for this issue, with good reason, but moreso, I firmly believe that Dud's start as an employee of Phi Kappa Psi during that contentious summer of 1948 is incredibly symbolic.

Dud was a gentleman first and a Phi Psi second. And, to him, those two descriptors were not mutually exclusive. I was always reminded of how a man should act when I was around Dud, and to him, the fact that any man joined Phi Kappa Psi was enough of a characteristic to respect him. To some, Dud's level of kindness, respect and thoughtfulness is almost fictional.

Think about the capsule of history that Dud had on staff. He starts in the midst of the Mass. Alpha controversy, carries leadership through the civil rights movements of the 1960's and concludes his time as Executive Director dealing with a young generation identified by their embracing of free love, recreational drug use and increasing social appetites.

Through all of that, Dud was a man who believed in simple values: those represented concisely and eloquently in our Ritual and Creed (written while Dud was Executive Director). To be courteous and cultured was not just a lesson, but a way of life for Dud.

With each year that he grew in legend and influence, more and more young men were introduced to a gentle man who taught us all how to be generous, compassionate and loyal comrades. While the outside world presented conflict for Dud, it was easy for him to lead because he simply believed in what Phi Kappa Psi stood for, and practiced that, without fault, in every aspect of his life—personally and professionally.

Dud was more than just a leader to me. He was a messenger of change in our organization's practice in a modern world.

Perhaps the evolution of society and the social education of a younger generation, helped to make Phi Kappa Psi more universally correct, but I strongly believe that an organization can only go as far as its leader's own beliefs and actions.

That's why, during the final year that Brother Daniel graced this world with his presence, Phi Kappa Psi was an organization where 19 percent of our incoming members came from a minority background, including 7 percent Hispanic, 6 percent Asian and 5 percent African-American.

I am proud to associate with an organization that has recently installed chapters, like CSU-Long Beach or Houston Baptist, where the founding fathers reflect an accurate representation of America's landscape. And I know that Dud was proud too.

In my mind, finding another Dud Daniel will be impossible, but continuing his lessons and his gentlemanly conduct becomes our responsibility as the leaders of a new generation.

This issue is dedicated to the memory of Dud Daniel, whose leadership and commitment to the true meaning of brotherhood lives on through all of us....

A long way from 1948, the current makeup of many chapters, like Houston Baptist, thrives on the diversity of its members

Special thanks to our Mystagogue Emeritus, Kent Owen (Indiana '58), whose final report to the Grand Arch Council, highlighted by his work in documenting the Thomas Gibbs story, inspired much of the above ■

PHI PSI

LIVED, RALPH "DUD" DANIEL PASSES AWAY AT THE AGE OF 85

1925

April 12: Born to Charles and Alice Daniel, in the Good Samaritan Hospital in Phoenix, Arizona

August 3: Enlisted into the United States Army Air Corps. Dud was a B24 pilot in World War II and reached the rank of Second Lieutenant and was also in charge of his squadron.

1940

THE BEGINNING

Born in Phoenix, Arizona, the youngest son of Charles and Alice Daniel, on April 12, 1925, Dud was always a native Arizonian. No matter where his travels for Phi Psi would take him, the influence of the desert life and mild-mannered culture was as noticeable as his signature bolo tie. It was there that Dud would learn the values and respect that would form his character as a true gentleman.

Coming of age during World War II, Dud turned 18-years-old during the peak of international conflict, and he enlisted in the US Army Air Corps on August 3, 1943. During the war, Dud was a B-24 Bomber pilot and, while not yet a Phi Psi, it is symbolic that Dud served as a pilot, as World War II served as vindication of the forethought General William "Billy" Mitchell GW 1896 had put into the importance of aviation and Pacific preparedness.

Upon his return from service in the war, Dud enrolled at the University of Arizona in 1945. The climate for fraternities on the Arizona campus at that time was very dark, as membership at many prominent fraternities was dwindling. Sensing an opportunity to capitalize on the situation, Phi Kappa Psi had established a local fraternity, named Kappa Psi, the previous year, led by a group of transfer students. It had the support of many local alumni and a founding class of members.

By the time Dud arrived, however, 75 percent of the founding pledge class had left school. Dud was the only man pledged to the chapter in the fall of 1945. By 1946, Dud was left virtually holding the reins of the entire group, as the two founding members had left their pursuit of a Phi Psi chapter. Fortunately, the Arizonian had connections. Leaning on the friendships of his childhood in Phoenix, Dud almost single-handedly recruited 16 members in the fall of 1946, keeping Kappa Psi alive. They were joined by several new transfer members on the Arizona campus. This allowed the group to host a successful open house that same fall, and the respect from the campus was strong enough to warrant the group's full participation in campus activities.

1946-47 was so successful for Dud's local fraternity that Phi Kappa Psi sought fit to charter the Arizona Alpha Chapter on September 20, 1947. It was the first charter issued to a new chapter in 14 years, the longest drought in the history of Phi Kappa Psi. And, almost all of the credit belonged to Dud....

A LEGACY STARTED

In addition to being the GP of the new chapter, Dud was a natural leader. He was president of the Interfraternity Council and secretary of the Western Regional Interfraternity Conference, in addition to being business manager of the school newspaper and editor of the yearbook. But, his love was Phi Kappa Psi.

Fresh off his chapter being chartered, Dud attended the 1948 Grand Arch Council in Estes Park, Colorado seeking a job with the Fraternity he had just joined. Knowing that there was a position available to assist Executive Secretary Dab Williams Illinois '06, Dud attended the GAC and was rewarded by the Executive Council by being appointed Assistant Secretary-Editor of Phi Kappa Psi, succeeding Robert S. Bahney Indiana '42.

Dud would serve as Dab's assistant for eight years, thus beginning an unmatched period of dedication to the Fraternity, travelling from coast to coast to help establish new chapters, and work with others.

September 20: Initiated into Phi Kappa Psi during the installation of the Arizona Alpha Chapter on the University of Arizona campus. Dud was a charter member and, perhaps, the most instrumental of the colony members in terms of recruitment and sustainability. He is badge number 3.

In January of 1948, Dud (right) and his chapter brothers brought snow down from the mountains to their Arizona campus

"We worked hard and we knew we were underpaid," joked Bob Miller, a peer of Dud's at Phi Delta Theta, who started on his staff three years after Dud and would become the equivalent of Executive Director for Phi Delta Theta in 1955, a position he held for 36 years. "We enjoyed our work so much that there was no way we were going to 'move on' unless our employment was terminated."

When the time came for Dab Williams to retire in 1956, Dud was ready for the next challenge. He was appointed Executive Secretary on July 30, 1956 prior to the San Francisco GAC. Dud would oversee the Cleveland headquarters without additional management staff until 1963.

It is impossible to capture in words what was accomplished during the 23 years that he served as Executive Secretary (Executive Director became the title in 1976), but Dud's legacy as the head of the Phi Kappa Psi National Office can be measured by milestones.

“LET US BE WHAT WE SAY WE ARE; A FRATERNITY,
NOT A CLUB; RUN BY MEN, NOT BOYS,
AND BASED ON IDEALS, NOT EXPEDIENCY.”
– DUD DANIEL

- More than 26,000 men were initiated while Dud served as Executive Director – that is more than 60 percent of the total number initiated in the 103 years prior to his involvement
- Became the face of Phi Psi, tirelessly using any form of transportation to circle the country, supporting and educating members of the Fraternity
- Moved the National Headquarters from Cleveland to Indianapolis prior to his retirement

That last point may be the most relevant to today. Dud was a fixture of Cleveland society, including memberships to the Cleveland Athletic Club and The Hermit Club. Leaving was not something that served his own needs, but the opportunity to house the Fraternity in its own building, be more centralized nationally and take advantage of some advantageous tax breaks was important for Phi Kappa Psi. And what is important for her was important to Dud. With that, Phi Kappa Psi took residence in Heritage Hall, located in downtown Indianapolis, in 1978.

Without fanfare (just a cover photo and letter from SWGP Sandy Chamberlain Washington '60 in the spring 1979 edition of The Shield), and amidst some forgotten and never reported politics, Dud Daniel retired as Executive Director, effective August 1, 1979. An excerpt of Brother Chamberlain's words from that issue of the magazine is worth repeating...

“Dud Daniel is the embodiment of the Phi Psi gentlemen. His family are his brothers, his Fraternity his home. He has fought to maintain quality while others sought quantity. He would not yield to expediency. He counseled compromise when there was divisiveness. He upheld ideals. And through it all, his good humor was his hallmark.

The legacy of Dud Daniel is a strong Phi Psi. No one wishes the Fraternity well more than he. It is our commitment that the standards he established will continue, and that Phi Psi's place of pre-eminence in the interfraternity world will not be diminished. We wish him well as he begins his deserved retirement in his Arizona that he left 31 years ago.”

Always the life of an event, Dud leads a group of brothers in a song in 1967

In a period of great uncertainty and struggle, Dud returns to the National Office as Interim Executive Director. While the term lasts only a couple of months, Dud's experience was more than valuable during the transition.

Even in retirement, Dud was not idle in his dedication to Phi Kappa Psi. He was appointed as Executive Director Emeritus upon his retirement and continued as a constant presence at Executive Council meetings, national events and anything where Phi Kappa Psi was in need of a dignitary. Shortly after his retirement, he was added to the Endowment Fund (now Phi Kappa Psi Foundation) Board of Trustees, and served for a decade.

"He was a calming influence," remarked Wayne Wilson Michigan State '59, current Chairman of the Foundation's Board of Trustees and a past national secretary. "He became a Foundation trustee when it was needed in the 1980s and without him, the proposed trustees may not have done as good of a job."

That calming influence and dedication to his Fraternity was never more important than when she was in a time of the greatest need. In 1990, after scandal had rocked the Fraternity with the dismissal and prosecution of its Executive Director, Dud stepped into the interim role and led Phi Psi again until a proper individual could be identified to lead the National Office. As he has also done for two previous stints while Executive Director, Dud served as the editor of this magazine for a short stint in 1990. Nobody questioned Dud's loyalty to Phi Kappa Psi.

"How very fortunate the brothers of Phi Kappa Psi are, to have been blessed with a man such as Dud,

Dud's work in the 1980s paved the way for the recent success of the Phi Kappa Psi Foundation, led by men like Don Fites "Valparaiso '53," pictured here with Dud at the 2008 GAC reception in Laurel Hall who not only loved our Fraternity with all that he was, but who was also willing to dedicate his entire life to sharing that love with all of those with whom he came in contact," said Gordon R. Letterman West Virginia '72, great-grandson of founder William Henry Letterman. "Dud held out, to all, not only the hand of Phi Kappa Psi, but more importantly, the heart."

The lasting impression many will have of Dud is his own dedication to be present for every chapter chartering from 1948 to spring of 2010, when his health finally forbid him from making another trip. We don't know exactly what the total number of installations was, or can even fathom the number of initiation ceremonies Dud presided over, but thousands of brothers will always remember him being the soft-spoken voice who taught them their first secrets of the Phi Kappa Psi Ritual. Like Larry Disbro Kent State '71, who wrote to us upon learning of Dud's illness:

"He gave us a chance to [become a chapter of a national fraternity] during a time when our campus and the country was pretty anti-anything establishment and our Greek community was under attack," he wrote. "He was a guiding hand throughout our growing process

January 14: Dies due to complications from pancreatic cancer at the age of 85.

Dud travelled to Berkeley, California in April of 2010 for the rechartering of our California Gamma Chapter, which was the last he attended and once quoted to me something Abraham Lincoln said. 'Perhaps a man's character was like a tree, and his reputation like its shadow; the shadow is what we think of it, the tree is the real thing.' That is what we used to tell our pledges and how we wanted to be judged. Dud Daniel cast an exemplary shadow!"

That he did.

BEYOND PHI PSI

Dud is "Mr. Phi Psi," but that term has meaning beyond the borders of our Fraternity. It actually carried more meaning within the interfraternal world, as Dud was recognized almost as a celebrity, especially as he grew older in a dwindling generation of "lifers" in the Greek profession.

Shortly after becoming Executive Secretary, Dud was elected president of the Fraternity Executives Association, serving from 1961-1962. When he attended last summer's FEA meeting in Seattle, it was his 61st gathering with his peers. His service was recognized in 1997 when he was presented with the organization's highest honor, the Distinguished Service Award.

At his last GAC appearance, Dud presents the award named for him, the Ralph D. Daniel Interfraternal Award, to Jon Williamson of Lambda Chi Alpha and the NIC

Dud was a strong advocate for the Greek movement, and his passion for the experience led to many lifelong friendships with involved Greeks from dozens of organizations. This did not go unnoticed, as he was honored with the top non-member honor bestowed by Theta Chi, Lambda Chi Alpha and Delta Tau Delta.

After retirement, Dud was very active in his local community. He sat on several boards, including the advisory board for the local airport, where Dud reconnected with his flying days from the war.

But more than the lessons taught about the values of Greek life and service, perhaps Brother Daniel will most be remembered for who he was as a man. Never was there more of a gentleman than Dud Daniel. He valued chivalry, respect and loyalty, all while maintaining his signature sense of humor. To him, the idea of being dressed casually was to loosen one's necktie. And no member of the Fraternity ever introduced a Phi Psi lady to Brother Daniel without immediately being upstaged by his charm and respect.

Dud could recite the Ritual by heart, and as alluded to before, dutifully served as the supreme educator at installations and initiations around the country. While that might be impressive, it was his firm belief in those words that represented Dud's character as a man.

When you read The Phi Kappa Psi Creed, the guidelines of being a member of this organization are generally used to steer each of us back onto the right path. Dud, whose tenure as Executive Director saw the Creed penned in 1964, lived every day on that path. Why is that so important? Because an organization based on simple, yet true values must have leaders that live the example. Dud Daniel's life can be a lesson about how all Phi Psi members can carry on that practice.

"It is going to be tough [to carry on Dud's values] because the world is changing," Wilson said. "But, I think if people remember what he stood for and always move forward, adapt and keep the Fraternity first, that would be a good lesson and legacy for him."

A LIFE REMEMBERED

Ralph D. "Dud" Daniel Arizona '47 entered Chapter Eternal on January 14, 2011 in hospice care at Veterans' Administration Hospital in his beloved hometown of Prescott, Arizona. Diagnosed just weeks before with advanced pancreatic cancer, the last days of his life were peaceful and shared with family, friends and his Phi Psi brothers. Dud was returned to the earth he cherished in Arizona just days after his passing. Before many of his brothers even arrived in Prescott, Arizona to celebrate a great life, Dud's ashes were spread in the Prescott National Forest.

On Saturday, January 22, 2011, eight days after he left us, hundreds of individuals attended a celebration of Dud's life on a gorgeous Arizona afternoon. Later that evening, in Phoenix, brothers gathered to share their personal memories of Dud over dinner and a round of Chartinis, Dud's favorite beverage, consisting of Chardonnay on ice with an olive. In a consensus of opinion, we were sad to lose a great man, but happy to have known him and call him our brother.

"Dud will always stand among the great men of our Brotherhood," Letterman said. "I have no doubt that when Dud was called home, Willie and Charlie were first in the long line of brothers waiting to share three words with him, and to say the words which Dud shared with me the last time we were together in his hospital room, 'Thou art indeed my Brother.'

Ever an Arizonian, Dud loved the outdoors and serenity of his native desert terrain

Dud is survived by his brother Charles and sister-in-law Mildred Daniel of Prescott, Arizona, two nieces and one nephew. It was often said that Dud was married to Phi Kappa Psi. In that respect, he is also survived by Phi Kappa Psi, who owes a great deal of that survival to him... ■

Dud Daniel was Mr. Phi Psi to all of us in the Fraternity, but the title was equally apropos in the Interfraternity community. As much as he influenced our Fraternity and thousands of brothers, Dud was Phi Kappa Psi to the Interfraternity world.

Many who met Dud in his later years, came to love the courtly and kind gentleman that he was. What most did not know or see is that during the prime of his professional career, Dud Daniel was the epitome of the fraternity chief executive officer. He helped lead the fraternity system through the turbulent 1960s and kept Phi Psi's and the Greek system's focus on the timeless values that have always made us relevant on the college campus. Dud rose to become president of the Fraternity Executives Association, the guild of those who serve as the chief executive officers of college fraternities. He was elected to that role not because he was popular - which he immensely was - but because he was respected by his peers for his effectiveness, his leadership and his idealism.

In 1979, Dud was awarded the North-American Interfraternity Conference's Gold Medal, which is the highest personal honor a fraternity member can receive. First presented in 1940, the Gold Medal is given in recognition of lifetime service to the fraternity movement. Recipients are models of selfless service, visionary leadership, and courage of conviction. Dud was recognized for his tenure of service, interfraternal leadership and dedication to advancing the fraternal movement. Fittingly, he is the only Phi Psi ever honored with the award.

Dud and I were regular companions and frequent roommates at various interfraternity meetings. I can tell you that my interfraternity service, which resulted in my election as NIC Chairman in 2008, was in no small part due to the respect and high esteem the member fraternities of the NIC held for Dud Daniel. His introductions to interfraternity colleagues, his mentoring and his endorsement were significant in my service in the NIC. But more than his invaluable mentoring, the thing I will never forget is his love of fraternity men and women.

The Creed captures Dud's stature in the fraternity world in the text "I believe that to all I meet, wherever I go, I represent not only Phi Kappa Psi, but indeed the spirit of all fraternities; thus I must ever conduct myself so as to bring respect and honor not to myself alone, but also to my Fraternity." Dud Daniel brought more respect and honor to our Fraternity among our interfraternity peers than any previous Phi Psi and the very image of our Fraternity today to the interfraternity world has been unmistakably shaped by the life and times of Brother Daniel.

STEVEN R. FOWLER ARIZONA '77

On March 24, 1977 I was blessed with the opportunity to meet the man I would come to know as "Mr. Phi Psi" and soon embrace as one of my dearest friends. Two days later, Arizona Alpha was rechartered and no one was more pleased than our chapter's beloved Dud Daniel. Two years later Dudley retired from his position as the Fraternity's Executive Director and, that same week, I was hired and joined my buddy Lou as one of Phi Psi's two Consultants for that academic year....

Dudley was more than a friend and brother; he was my mentor. As such, he never lectured or chastised me. His approach was always encouraging and positive. He stood by me and forgave me, even when I was wrong. Many years ago I crossed a line... I told Dud I realized the error of my ways; and noted my actions were contrary to the ideals of Phi Kappa Psi. He reminded me of his Amici speech and how important it is to conduct ourselves in a manner that will always lift others and reflect well on Phi Kappa Psi. He understood why I felt a need to withdraw, but also encouraged me to return to active involvement. He stood by me and tried to help assuage my angst. He held my pain in confidence for the rest of his life....

I was blessed with the opportunity to spend a large part of Dud's final Sunday on earth at his bedside... Late in the day after one of Dud's many expressions of appreciation for us coming to be with him, Brother John Ciccarelli stood up and walked to the foot of Brother Daniel's bed and said with sincerity, firmness, and absolute honesty: "Dud we love you. Many people love you. Everybody loves you."

Then the time came to tell Dudley so long for the final time. After sharing some pleasantries, he thanked me for being a friend to him, for coming to see him, and for helping to make his life "fun" and memorable....

He is gone. A man who left a huge mark on my life and upon the lives of many thousands. Many, if not most, of my dearest friends came into my life as a result of the actions of Mr. Phi Psi. Dud's friends are scattered across the world. Many have passed on. Of them, many were Phi Psis, some were not. Dud cherished his ties with Greeks everywhere. He was well traveled, well respected, and very well liked. He was a true gentleman who loved Phi Kappa Psi and gave his life to her. He lived the Phi Psi Creed fully; every paragraph, every word, every principle. I believe his dedication and loving devotion to Phi Kappa Psi provided him the health and opportunity to enjoy a long, full, and satisfying life. Gordon Letterman said it so well when he recently described Dud's life as "charmed."

Some give of their treasures. Some give of their time. Others their talent. Most give in a combination of ways. Why? What's the motivation? The most wonderful motivator is the heart. Not the limelight or some personal agenda. Mother Teresa was driven by her heart; not riches, or fame. Yet, fame became a part of her life. As with Mother Teresa, Dudley sought neither wealth, nor recognition. However, he became one of the richest people I've ever met. He's recognized by thousands for his lifelong commitment to, and investment in, Phi Kappa Psi. He gave Phi Psi his all, seeking little more than brotherhood in return. He sacrificed treasure, talent, time, and his ticker (literally and figuratively) on behalf of his fraternity. His heart was all Phi Psi and it directed his paths in ways that enriched lives everywhere; including my own. His life he gave to Phi Kappa Psi and, through that giving, Dud will live ever, die never.

God Bless you Mr. Phi Psi - My Brother, My Friend, My Mentor

In their own words...

GEORGE SPASYK EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT EMERITUS, LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

It hardly seems possible that my first association with Ralph Dudley Daniel started in 1956, and in the ensuing 55 years, our careers, Dud with Phi Kappa Psi, mine with Lambda Chi Alpha, followed an incredibly similar journey. I was initiated in March of 1947 at the University of Michigan, Dud in September 1947 at the University of Arizona. Dud joined the staff of Phi Psi in 1948; I joined my fraternity staff in 1950. Dud succeeded "Dab" Williams as chief executive of Phi Psi and served in that capacity for 23 years, until he retired. I succeeded "Duke" Flad as chief executive and served in that capacity for 22 years, until I retired. Dud served as president of the Fraternity Executives Association from 1961-62; I was FEA president from 1979-80. Dud received the Gold Medal of the North American Interfraternity Conference in 1979; I received the NIC Gold Medal in 1993. In 1986, Dud received the George W. Spasyk Order of Interfraternity Service Award from Lambda Chi Alpha. In 2004, I received the Ralph "Dud" Daniel Intrafraternal Excellence Award from Phi Kappa Psi.

So, do I know Dudley? You bet I do! Since that 1956 meeting of two very different personalities from different ends of the continent – Massachusetts and Arizona, I have estimated that Dudley and I have attended some 300 conferences, conventions, meetings and reunions together. But my real friendship with Dud really started in 1977, when Phi Psi moved its headquarters from Cleveland to Indianapolis, which has been my hometown since 1950. It was then that Dud and I realized that we were really brothers, in the truest sense of the word. You see, he told me that his older blood brother, Charlie, was a Lambda Chi from our Berkeley chapter. Since I was Charlie's brother, that made me Dudley's brother, and no one can convince me otherwise.

How does one describe Dud Daniel? In my mind he was truly "the last Victorian," and we shall not see the likes of him again. He was not only a gentleman, but a gentle man. He was a perfectionist with a subtle sense of humor, a pleasant personality with a touch – but just a touch – of humility. He exemplified the highest ideals of character and integrity.

I never saw Dudley, in any setting, when he was not impeccably dressed. On many trips, coming from different directions, we would meet in the baggage claim area of an airport, and it was easy to spot Dudley, because he stood out in the crowd. While every other guy was dressed in jeans or shorts, tank-tops and flip-flops, there was Dudley, in dark suit, white shirt, his Phi Psi tie, and dress shoes that had a brilliant shine.

Dud was a true professional in every sense of the word. He inspired others to perform, seemingly beyond their capability. He related well to people of all generations, and I know he especially enjoyed the company of the undergraduates whom he served so well. In that sense also, we were kindred spirits. He was a totally unselfish person, always sensitive to the needs and aspirations of others.

All of these traits earned for him the respect, love and admiration of countless thousands of his Phi Psi brothers, and interfraternity colleagues, both men and women. Phi Kappa Psi has lost a great brother and leader, Lambda Chi Alpha has lost a great interfraternity brother. And I have lost one of my best friends. I count it as one of God's blessings to have been a small part of his life.

Farewell for now, good friend and brother. We shall miss you more than these poor words can say. Our sadness is tempered by the happy times we shared, and they were many. We're really not saying goodbye, because we will keep on remembering, and remembering, until one day, we'll all be together again.

On January 14, 2011, Brother Ralph “Dud” Daniel, one of the Fraternity’s most revered, loyal, and passionate brothers joined Chapter Eternal. With the news of his passing, heavy hearts fell among not only the brotherhood but the entire Greek community. Dubbed “Mr. Phi Psi” by his interfraternal peers, Brother Daniel dedicated over 63 years to the fraternal movement.

As the Phi Psi Foundation embraces and celebrates the life and legacy of Mr. Phi Psi, you are encouraged to honor this great man by adding your name to the list of those who have already joined together to endow the Ralph D. “Dud” Daniel Leadership award. Recognized as the most prestigious national scholarship offered by the Foundation, annually the award honors an undergraduate Phi Psi who possesses exceptional leadership experience within the Fraternity as well as his campus setting and community environment.

SERVICE IN ACTION

“WHEREVER A MAN TURNS HE CAN FIND SOMEONE WHO NEEDS HIM.”

— Albert Schweitzer

BOYS & GIRLS CLUBS OF AMERICA

Spring marks the culmination of a year of service for Phi Kappa Psi. And this past month was the pinnacle of our dedication to the “Great Joy of Serving Others...”

On April 16th, Phi Kappa Psi chapters and alumni associations around the country gathered for an annual Phi Psi tradition, our national Day of Service. In Syracuse, New York, the men of our New York Beta Chapter held their fourth annual “Phi Psi GUTS” event, where a campus-wide competition helped to raise money for their local Boys & Girls Club. In Florida, the men of our South Florida Gulf Coast Alumni Association pitched in to donate earth boxes to their local BGCA Club.

That Saturday was also the culmination of a new Phi Kappa Psi initiative. National Service Week was sparked by the Community Service Committee, chaired by Mark Wong UC Davis '88. Through fundraising events and viral marketing, the week was a campaign drive for our partner, the Boys & Girls Clubs of America. Together, we can help impact the lives of young people throughout our country.

Total money raised and the impact of our April service was not immediately known as this issue went to print, but a presentation of the money will be carried out at this summer’s Woodrow Wilson Leadership School (June 22-26 in Columbus, Ohio), with a complete recap in the summer issue of The Shield.

Spring also presented our undergraduate members with excellent opportunities to practice our founding principle of helping our fellow man. While many students journeyed to tropical and exotic locations for sunshine, beaches and spring break parties, others used a week away from classes to make a difference in the world...

GRANT SCHOUWEILER PURDUE '10

Looking to do something with more impact for his spring break, Grant used spring break 2011 to plan a mission trip to Belize with some other chapter brothers, helping with construction and building projects for Holy Cross Elementary, which provides educational opportunities for young people in the ghettos of San Mateo.

Grant and his fellow brothers spent their week focused mainly on building an ecological pond system (water garden) that works to filter the school’s toilet water so that it may be recycled into the flushing system. It is an improvement that not only helps preserve natural resources, but is calculated to save the school over $6,000 annually.

The work didn’t stay outside of the classroom, however.

“We worked on the pond from 8:30 a.m. to about 3:00 p.m. each day, and after 3:00 p.m. we held a homework club to help the children with their school work after school hours,” Schouweiler recounts. “They also had a drum club after school, which was pretty neat and a good cultural experience.”

Members of Inland Islanders helping with class work in Belize

The water garden

The water garden was completed with enough time and resources left over that Grant and his team were also able to lay the foundation for a future playground.

"The school is built on a swamp, so to put a playground in, we needed to lay down a lot of sand," he said. "This was quite a task, since the school didn't have any money for a Bobcat or a dump-truck of any sort. It was all done by shovel!"

In order for this mission to be such a success, it required a chapter-wide effort at Purdue to help fund the trip. Calling the mission "Inland Islanders," Brother Schouweiler and his chapter brothers hosted several fundraisers on campus, but relied heavily on the individual donations of brothers, family and friends. Even with a lean budget, the mission was a success and an additional $2,800 was donated to the school for their feeding program, which is funded exclusively by donations.

While the trip was not without incident (one brother dislocated a shoulder, but unselfishly returned to work after getting medical treatment), the overwhelming success and impact of Inland Islanders has Grant already thinking about 2012. He plans on assembling a new team, making the trip a part of Indiana Delta's annual philanthropic efforts and returning to Belize next spring to help install solar panels for the school.

"My goal for this philanthropy is to mainly show newly initiated brothers what we are really all about at Phi Psi, and I think this is a great way to do that. I personally came back with a new perspective on life and how great we have it here at Purdue University. Seeing such great people, who have so little, be so welcoming and helpful to us was what touched me the most."

To help Grant in future missions, please contact the National Headquarters to give back. ■

PHI KAPPA PSI CONTINUES WITH ITS ANNUAL TRIO OF

The Hilton-Indianapolis was once again the site for Phi Kappa Psi development in 2011. From January 28-30, nearly 200 Phi Psi brothers, representing all but five chapters and colonies, attended one of three conferences hosted by the Fraternity.

In its 16th year, the Presidents Leadership Academy (PLA) brought the best leaders of every chapter together to learn tactics and skills that could be applied to their own chapters, inspiring change.

In its fourth year as a reconfigured program alongside PLA, the New Volunteer Orientation (NVO) was adjusted slightly in 2011 to focus solely on house corporation volunteers new to their position, or simply wanting to get better.

Also in its fourth edition, Recruitment Boot Camp (RBC) was joined with PLA and NVO simultaneously. The RBC program is run by David Stollman, renowned national speaker, and facilitated by several Greek advisors from campuses around the country.

Like many events nationally, there was strong participation from members of the Executive Council. SWGP Tryon Hubbard Alabama '55 (pictured) addressed the members of PLA and also participated in a number of activities. Also in attendance, SWP Scott Noble Texas '81 took particular interest in RBC, but was an excited participant in almost every session of all three conferences. Also on hand for PLA, Mystagogue David McDonald Beloit '82 provided a spirited review of the Ritual to all PLA participants, sparking some rave reviews.

A satisfied participant commented that he "appreciated the active role of the Executive Council. Their interactions provide greater insight than expected."

TO INVEST IN ITS MEMBERS WINTER CONFERENCES

In the RBC sessions, interpersonal skills and how to properly sell Phi Kappa Psi on each campus was at the forefront of the discussions and workshops. Here, brothers work on how to effectively begin a conversation, engage a fellow student and, hopefully, begin the process of making them a member.

No matter the conference, having the chance to work with fellow brothers from around the country is a major advantage to attending.

"As a young, inexperienced guy, I learned a lot and will be sure to take it back to my chapter!" was a common response in post-session evaluations. "This was a great opportunity to meet and learn skills from other [chapters]."

In the NVO room, it was all business for our house corporation volunteers. Sessions ranged from fire safety to working with millennials. Here, Director of Chapter Services Mark Lipka goes over the Accreditation application for chapters and how the house corporation can help strengthen the chapter's submission.

The focus shifted to just house corporations this year in order to provide a more detailed curriculum, but also thanks to back-to-back summers of advisor-oriented conferences in 2009 and 2010.

"This was very helpful," replied one participant. "I am excited to go back and get to work."

Participants at PLA spend much of their time working in small groups, with exercises designed to get them critically thinking about the mindset of their chapter, obstacles facing them as leaders and how to develop their actions to inspire stronger behavior. In this exercise, undergraduates were given eight steps in random order, and instructed to assemble them in the correct order if you were to most successfully transform your organization.

As one participant remarked upon completion of the program, "PLA was well organized and run. It was a truly enjoyable and rewarding experience"

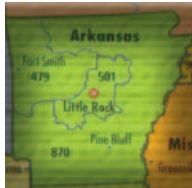

A key characteristic to all conferences was the opportunity for participants to learn in groups. Both PLA and RBC dedicated large portions of time to these private room sessions, where undergraduates could more comfortably discuss issues and seek advice from their peers and facilitators. In the NVO room, many sessions broke out of lecture to allow volunteers to work through questions and hypothetical discussions.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION NEWSLETTERS

As much an annual tradition as the events of Founders Day, the spring issue of this magazine allows our alumni associations to reflect on the start of 2011 and how our gatherings throughout the country brought thousands of brothers together to celebrate 159 years of Phi Kappa Psi. We are excited to report that an estimated 2,600 brothers came together to celebrate Founders Day in some way.

Of course, this was a somber celebration, with our "Mr. Phi Psi" at the front of our minds. As a sign of unity, associations gathering around the country recognized Brother Dud Daniel with a moment of silence during their event. And, in Tucson, flowers were placed at the bench dedicated in Dud's memory. It is our hope that, in reflection of Dud, those in attendance left with a greater sense of responsibility in being a Phi Psi.

As our current SWGP, Tryon Hubbard, said in his opening letter, we welcome the involvement of our alumni in any capacity. The easiest way to get involved is locally, so reach out to one of the following 50 alumni associations and reconnect with Phi Kappa Psi today

Preferred Contact: Glenn Lockeby (glenn@lockeby.com)

Reoccurring Event: Monthly luncheons at Franke's Cafeteria in Little Rock (Second Friday of every month, 11:30 - 1:00)

Association Update: The Arkansas AA had a great Founders Day celebration at the West End Smokehouse and made plans for the 2012 Founders Day celebration to be held at Hot Springs, Arkansas. We held a "Day at the Races" on April 2, 2011 at Oaklawn Park in Hot Springs. We are working on other possible activities for the summer and fall of this year. Our association continues to hold our monthly luncheons on the second Friday of every month at Franke's Cafeteria in Little Rock.

ATLANTA AA

Preferred Contact: Flynn Brantley (flynn151@aol.com)

Reoccurring Event: Monthly Lunch (Second Friday every month at 11:54 a.m.)

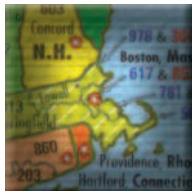

Association Update: The Atlanta AA welcomed 33 alumni and undergraduates to our annual banquet of good food and fellowship on Friday, February 25, 2011, at the Petite Auberge restaurant. SWGP Tryon Hubbard provided words of encouragement and ideas for expanding our involvement with the chapters, especially in the area of mentoring. Brothers Mike Grozdanoff Case Western '59 and Flynn Brantley South Carolina '72 were recognized for their many years of work in leadership and event planning for the association. Our traditional singing bracketed the evening, with the brothers voice in strong harmony, and we shared a moment of silence in tribute to Ralph Dudley Daniel. Elections to the helm President Scott Percy Georgia Tech '00, VP Evan Gibson Georgia Tech '00, with Brother Brantley continuing as secretary/treasurer but now assisted by Mark Vandekerckhoff Bowling Green '86. We look to expand our activities and membership during the coming year, while maintaining a diverse group that spans seven decades and more than 35 chapters. Join us for our 2nd Friday lunches or other events as your schedule permits. For details contact us through Facebook or Brother Brantley.

Preferred Contact: Mike Corcoran (mlcorcoran@gmail.com)

Association Update: The Boston Alumni Association was chartered this past Fall and celebrated our first Founders Day celebration together on February 19th. The Association members met at Sacco's restaurant in Somerville, MA for dinner and a bowling night. We look forward to hosting future events in and around the Boston area as our inaugural year continues, including sporting events, cookouts, bowling nights, and happy hour events. If you are interested in joining the Association's mailing list, please email President Michael Corcoran (above). We post event updates regularly on LinkedIn and Phi Psi Connect, and we also have plans to get our website online in the near future.

CENTRAL IOWA AA

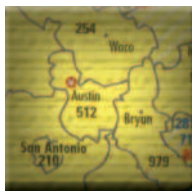

Preferred Contact: Elliott Smith (esmith@iowabusinesscouncil.org)

Next Event: Iowa Cubs Baseball Event (TBD Late May / Early June)

Brothers & their families enjoy an evening of AAA Cubs baseball

Association Update: Greetings from America's heartland! The Central Iowa AA held its annual Founders Day dinner on February 18th at the beautiful Wakonda Club in Des Moines. Thirty brothers, guests, and undergraduates got caught-up on winter activities during a relaxing social hour, and were then treated to two excellent speakers during dinner: Doug Parsons Iowa '75 related his experience as the local alumni leader who marshalled the effort to rebuild the house at the University of Iowa after it was destroyed by fire in 1994; and Bill Good Iowa State '69 described the challenges encountered while he spearheaded the return of Phi Psi to the campus of Iowa State over the last 10 years. Brother Good also offered a very poignant remembrance of the many years he worked for and was a friend of Brother Ralph "Dud" Daniel Arizona '47. A great evening was had by all! We now look forward to Spring with a planned baseball outing, the annual golf tourney, and an occasional after work gathering for alumni to enjoy a relaxing toddy. Best to all!

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION NEWSLETTERS

transcend generations. Matthew Schell (President of VCU Colony) and the attending brothers presented their colony newsletter to the alumni. The colony's accomplishments include highest fraternity GPA at Virginia Commonwealth University. Brothers John D. Watt and Scott Bill continue to work closely with and nurture the VCU Colony. Our gathering missed several active brothers, who, unfortunately, had previous engagements. Great notice was taken by all that the brothers from West Virginia identified the evening silverware as not being disposable. The CVAA always welcomes brothers from the Charlottesville area to the Virginia Beach area. Please contact AA President Daniel Mouer at Phipsi33@aol.com

Preferred Contact: Matt Cameron (matthew.lee.cameron@gmail.com)

Association Update: Our Founders Day event capped off another successful year here in Charlotte. We had 15 brothers attend the event and were very fortunate to have Kevin Marks, Director of Alumni Services, give us an update on the health of the Fraternity and what to expect in the near future. There are several upcoming events in the works but nothing has been finalized so please continue to check your email for upcoming events. If you are in the Charlotte area and would like to connect with other brothers, please contact Matt Cameron to be put on our email list.

CHICAGO AA

Preferred Contact: Tony Sacco (anthony.sacco@gmail.com)

Next Event: Community Service and BBQ (Saturday, May 21st)

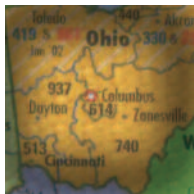

Also, on June 17th, golf outing at Village Greens at 1:00 p.m.

Association Update: The Chicago Alumni Association has had strong momentum moving into 2011 with newly appointed board members and also the addition of local chapter liaisons to enhance the transition from undergraduate to alumnus. We've found this alumni liaison team to be a tremendous success with the group of 70+ that attended this year's Founders Day. We celebrated on February 19th at Kinzie Chop House in Chicago, with SWVGP Jim Miller as our guest speaker. Brother Miller had many profound words of wisdom for those in attendance. We ended with the singing of Amici, all 70 in unison, which was a truly memorable experience. For more information on our upcoming events (there are many), visit our association website or the calendar on the Phi Kappa Psi website.

GARDEN STATE AA

Preferred Contact: Joseph Valver (josephvalverjr@gmail.com)

Next Event: Annual Summer Golf Outing (Saturday, August 21st)

Join us for a round of golf at the Gambler Ridge Country Club in Cream Ridge, NJ, featuring golf, drinks, cigars, and good times for all.

Association Update: The Garden State AA celebrated another Founders Day with our annual Founders Day Brunch at the Matoris Diner and Restaurant on February 13th. We had a great showing of alumni and undergraduates alike, from all over the state of New Jersey. This year we were fortunate enough to be joined by guest speaker Kevin Marks, the Director of Alumni Services. Kevin spoke to us about the state of our Fraternity, goals for the upcoming year, and shared with us ideas and tips to improve our alumni association. Currently we are putting together an updated New Jersey alumni directory, to keep brothers up to date with GSAA news and events. You are also invited and encouraged to join our GSAA Facebook group. If you are interested in receiving updates about alumni and undergraduate events, or have any questions, please contact Joseph Valver.

GREAT LAKES STATE AA

Preferred Contact: Joe Neller (nellerjo@msu.edu)

Association Update: The Great Lakes State AA is a new group consisting of mostly Phi Psis in the Lansing area and the area on the "west coast" of Michigan including Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Battle Creek. Between 10-15 brothers attended our initial Founders Day celebration on February 27. The association hopes to attract more brothers from West Michigan and the Greater Lansing Area and eventually reach into the Detroit area. Since the Great Lakes State AA is recently formed, we do not have regularly scheduled events at this time. There are plans for events in the summer, specifically a minor league baseball tour, and possibly a golf outing. Any Phi Psi brothers interested in joining the Great Lakes State AA, please let us know and you will be welcomed.

GREATER ORANGE COUNTY AA

Preferred Contact: Matthew Shaw (mattjshaw@yahoo.com)

Association Update: On February 19th the Greater OC AA and the Los Angeles AA held a joint celebration at the Mesa Verde Country Club in Costa Mesa. The evening attended by the five local chapters of Southern Cal, UC-Irvine, Occidental, UC-Riverside and Long Beach State. Sammi Shaaya UC-Irvine '01 served as the Master of Ceremonies. The active brothers, alumni and guests heard reports from the chapters along with an update from Leadership consultant David Ellsworth Ashland '06. Former SWGP John Ciccarella Cal State Northridge '72 shared a moving tribute to Mr. Phi Psi, Ralph D. Daniel. Ben Lamson Southern Cal '86 and Matthew Shaw UC-Irvine '93 were recognized by the Los Angeles and Greater Orange County AA's respectively with the J. Robert Meserve Award recognizing their service to the Fraternity. The last presentation of the night was a tribute for the 20th anniversary of the chartering of the California Kappa Chapter at UC-Irvine. Matthew Shaw shared a history of the chapter with the crowd followed by a photo/video collection of the prior 20 years. Special thanks to Ethan Temianka UC-Irvine '02 and the chapter for organizing the event.

HOUSTON AA

Preferred Contact: Chuck Brandman (brandman@pdq.net)

Next Event: Monthly Luncheon (Thursday, May 12, 2011 @ 11:30 a.m.)

At the Ragin Cajun (4302 Richmond)

Reoccurring Event: Monthly Luncheons / Monthly After-Work (Luncheon on Second Thursday; After Work on Fourth Thursday)

Association Update: The Houston Alumni Association once again shared our Founders Day banquet with the Texas Epsilon chapter and the Texas Zeta chapter. However, this year we were also able to include the new colony at the University of Houston. We had a great time catching up with Phi Psis young and not so young. We were honored to have Rev. Dr. David McDonald Beloit '82, Mystagogue of Phi Kappa Psi, deliver the keynote speech. A special congratulations goes out to this year's Houston Alumni Association Scholarship winner, James McBride Loyola '09.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION NEWSLETTERS

Also receiving awards were Texas Epsilon Undergraduate of the Year Cody Jones, Texas Zeta Undergraduate of the Year Robert Foster, and Houston Area Alumnus of the Year Will Hennegan Loyola '02. We are well into our initial year of a Mentoring Program with Texas Zeta. Currently, we have a mentor assigned to each undergrad brother. We expect that we will need to grow the program as Tex. Zeta is on an aggressive membership program and the Colony at University of Houston transitions to a chapter. The Association hosted a Regional Leadership Workshop on February 5th. Fifty-six undergraduates, representing five chapters and colonies, attended the day-long workshop. Feedback from the workshop was excellent; we will be making this an annual event.

INDIANAPOLIS AA

Preferred Contact: Tom Pennington (TCP1330@mac.com)

Reoccurring Event: Monthly Luncheons (First Wednesday of each month at noon)

Association Update: Over 80 alumni and undergraduates showed up for a great Founders Day celebration at Laurel Hall on February 19th. Our congratulations to Don Bennett Wabash '66, our 2011 Alumnus Man of Excellence. A good time was had by all. We will continue our association luncheons the first Wednesday of every month, and are making plans for more tasting nights and a couple Colts games in the McMahan Saloon at Laurel Hall. Visit our website for details on luncheon locations and all other association activities.

KANSAS CITY AA

Preferred Contact: John Gillis (john@johngillis-law.com)

Association Update: The Kansas City Alumni Association of Phi Kappa Psi has an old and glorious heritage. First established in 1887 (The Shield, Vol. 29, No.3, p.170, January 15, 1909), at the Indianapolis GAC (The Shield, Vol. 27, No.4, p.349, March 1, 1907), the Association has been the Midwest meeting ground for Phi Psis who reside in the Kansas City area for 124 years. On February 18, 2011, the brothers again assembled for a Founders Day celebration, which was held at the Hereford House restaurant in Leawood, Kansas. Approximately 21 brethren convened to once again slip-the-grip, tell old stories, and generally enjoy the brotherhood we call Phi Kappa Psi. Cocktail Hour commenced the evenings festivities, which was followed by a wonderful meal. After dinner, Brother John Gillis presided, as president of the Association, for the conduct of Fraternity business and frivolity. At the conclusion of the dinner, a group photo was taken to commemorate the evening. Those in attendance from Kansas Alpha were: Parks, Lind, Saffels, Orr, Muehlberger; from Missouri Alpha: Gillis, Chiles, James, Henderson, Ruby, Case, Hocker, Thompson, Halter, Burkhart, McCray, Crawford, Scheidker, Richerson; from Pennsylvania Kappa: Dickey; and from Nebraska Alpha: William. In closing, the Kansas City Alumni Association extends its greetings to all Phi Psis near and far, and gives advance notice to look for upcoming correspondence regarding planned summer or fall activities.

LANCASTER COUNTY AA

Preferred Contact: Ivo Becica (lankyman2007@gmail.com)

Next Event: Ribbon Cutting Ceremony & Homecoming Weekend for Penn. Eta (September 23-24, 2011)

Pennsylvania Eta returns home to its house on 560 West James Street.

Association Update: The LCAA hosted its biannual meetings on the campus of Franklin & Marshall College. Alumni enjoyed their time on campus with the undergraduate Penn. Eta brothers. In addition to the LCAA meetings, young brothers and brothers young at heart took in an F&M men's basketball game, dinner at Iron Hill restaurant and an evening brothers social event. The chapter introduced its 24 pledges to the alumni, and updated the LCAA on academic, social and philanthropic events that took place in the previous semester. The LCAA discussed the progress towards the giving campaign established for furnishing the common spaces in Penn. Eta's future home at 560 West James Street. Penn. Eta called this address home for many years, before being displaced in the mid-1980's. Alumni who would like more information about the ribbon-cutting ceremonies or donating to this great cause should contact Ivo Becica.

LOS ANGELES AA

Preferred Contact: John Ciccarelli (jcicarelli@aol.com)

Association Update: On Saturday February 19th, over 150 Southland Phi Psi undergraduate and alumni brothers gathered to celebrate the 159th anniversary of founding of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity at the Mesa Verde Country Club in Costa Mesa California. The evening banquet program sponsored jointly by the Los Angeles and Greater Orange County Alumni Associations was represented in attendance by local area chapters California Delta, California Kappa, California Mu, California Nu and California Xi and opened in special tribute and in a moment of silence for Executive Director Brother "Mr Phi Psi" Ralph D Daniel Arizona '47. The program highlights included the presentation of the J. Robert Meserve Stanford '34 Alumnus Award of Merit presented to Brother Ben Lamson Southern Cal '86 and Brother Matthew Shaw UC-Irvine '92 and recognition of the 20th California Kappa Chapter anniversary. Special thanks to Brother Ethan Temainka UC-Irvine '02 for organizing the fun and spirited observance.

MID-SOUTH AA

Preferred Contact: Woody Johnson (midsouthalumhipsi@yahoo.com)

Next Event: Association business meeting (May 12, 2011 at 6:00 p.m.)

Officer elections and event planning for the year

Association Update: We had a successful inaugural Founders Day social, with 22 attendees. There will be an upcoming alumni golf tournament in Oxford, Miss. at the University Golf Club. Brother Tim Walsh has arranged for a reduced room rate at The Inn at Ole Miss for Friday, May 27 and Saturday, May 28. If interested, please contact Ted Wilkins (ted.wilkins@wellsfargo.com). Room reservations are the responsibility of the attendee. Tee times are set for Saturday, May 28. Alumni fees for 2011 are currently due. We would like all fees to be paid by May 15, 2011 if interested. Dues are $25 and checks should be payable to "Mid South Alumni Association of Phi Kappa Psi". Please send checks to Paragon National Bank c/o Alex Thesmar, 5400 Poplar Ave, Suite 150, Memphis, TN 38119. Make sure to attend our next business meeting. We will elect next year's officers and make plans for next year's events.

NEW MEXICO AA

Preferred Contact: Lewis Bejcek (lbejcek@comcast.net)

Association Update: The New Mexico AA had a wonderful Founders Day Dinner on Feb. 19th with seven brothers in attendance. A great time was had by all, and the wonderful stories abounded. I would like to welcome Gary Oty and Art McHaffie to the association as first time attendees. Also rounding out the night was David Catanzaro, Bob Sutton, Daniel Romero, Gordon Letterman and Lewis Bejcek. We would like to encourage any alumni in the New Mexico area to attend.

NEW YORK CITY AA ★

NORTH TEXAS AA

Preferred Contact: Andy Kuklish (txephipsi@yahoo.com)

Association Update: The brothers of the North Texas AA have been working hard throughout the winter with the continuing quest towards the reorganization of the chapter at Southern Methodist University in Dallas. Brothers Mark and Adam Voll have been instrumental in creating interest amongst students and faculty. With their support, it won't be long before the Phi Psi flag will fly once again in Dallas. A break was taken from work on 3/3 for brothers around the DFW area to gather and celebrate the founding of our great Fraternity, reflecting the memories and life of the beloved "Dud" Daniel, listening to the inspiration and wisdom from our guest speaker Tryon Hubbard, and recognizing alumni for their years of service to the Fraternity. One special presentation was made to Robert Seal Oregon State '51 for 50 years of service - Congratulations! The future will hold many opportunities, including assisting local Boys & Girls Clubs around the DFW area in any way we can. Looking forward to a great summer.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AA

Preferred Contact: Ken Perscheid (kenperscheid@yahoo.com)

Association Update: In November, Northern California Alumni Association members enjoyed the legendary Big Game Lunch in San Francisco, where 100 Brothers (and Miss Big Game!) gathered to celebrate the annual Cal - Stanford football rivalry. Alumni from several chapters - together with actives from the California Beta and California Gamma chapters - renewed their school and fraternal ties at John's Grill, followed by the traditional post-mortem at Harrington's Bar. In February, several of our members met at the Cabo San Lucas home of Jerry Nelson, where we planned the purchase of a permanent U.C. Berkeley chapter house. Alumni pledges exceed $1 million. We ask all Phi Psis to participate in the cause. To learn how you can help with your time and/or tax-deductible contribution, please write your AA at 584 Pimlico Court, Walnut Creek, CA 94597, call Ken Perscheid at (925) 947-6797 or email (above).

OKLAHOMA AA

Preferred Contact: Derek Neidig (okalumniassociation@gmail.com)

Reoccurring Event: Monthly meeting at Coach's (20 S Mickey Mantle; Oklahoma City, OK) (Last Tuesday or each month at 6:30 p.m.)

Association Update: The Oklahoma AA is honored to have been awarded its charter by Tryon Hubbard, SWGP, at the 2011 Founders Day. Thirty brothers representing Oklahoma Alpha, Oklahoma Beta, and New York Eta attended the celebration on February 19th. The newly formed association is excited about building a strong organization where local area Phi Psi brothers can connect, network and continue the ideals of the Fraternity. We will be planning several events throughout the year and look forward to working with the local undergraduates for a successful Oklahoma Alpha chapter. Please join us for our monthly meetings at Coach's (see above) the last Tuesday of each month at 6:30 p.m. Brothers in the Tulsa area will be planning luncheons on the 3rd Thursday of each month. For more information please email Derek Neidig.

Next Event: Pop Top Open (August 6th)

1:00 p.m. tee time at Fenner Hill Golf Club, Hope Valley, RI Please contact awm414@aol.com

Association Update: After surviving a miserable winter in the pearl of the great Atlantic Northeast, Rhode Island is ready for Spring to arrive. The Rhode Island Alumni Association is alive and well. Our annual Founders day was a great success. We had the privilege of having our Director of Alumni Services, Kevin Marks, speak. He gave us an update on the Fraternity and our 2013 timetable to re-colonize the Rhode Island Beta Chapter. The house is still occupied by Zeta Tau Alpha sorority; they have been great tenants and continue to keep the house in perfect condition. Congrats to Jeff Morgan on becoming the third Rhode Island Beta member to become a member of the Ancient Order of the SC. As always, we would like to extend an invitation to all Phi Psis in the area to join our alumni association, particularly our Brown University brothers. If the Brown University alumni have any events, please contact us and we will post them on our website.

ROCHESTER AREA AA

Preferred Contact: Brad Hunter (bhunter190@gmail.com)

Next Event: Memorial Day BBQ (TBD - Memorial Day Weekend)

Contact above for more information

Reoccurring Event: Texas Hold-Em Tournaments (Thursdays and rotation of alumni homes)

Association Update: The Rochester Area AA has had a very successful winter, increasing membership, events, and overall communication. We held our annual Founders Day luncheon on February 19th, attracting approximately 25 alumni and a handful of undergrads. Before this issue reaches you, we will have executed the first annual RAAA Chili Cookoff and Poker Tournament, as well as New York Theta's 19th Alumni Weekend. Tentative summer plans include a RAAA team in the local kickball league, a chartered fishing trip, multiple cook-outs, a white-water rafting trip, and the revival of our monthly happy hour. Feel free to contact the RAAA president if you would like to be added to our communication lists and attend upcoming events.

RUBBER CITY AA

Preferred Contact: Tim Lynskey (tskey@mailts.com)

Next Event: Rubber City Annual Golf Outing (August 6th)

Held at Barberton Brookside CC

Reoccurring Event: Monthly Luncheon (Second Friday of every month at Max & Erma's in Montrose, Ohio at 11:55 a.m.)

Association Update: The brothers of the Rubber City Alumni Association met on February 19th for our annual Founders Day celebration. The festivities were held in the Wine Cellar at the Tangier Restaurant and Lounge located just minutes from The University of Akron, our alma mater. We had the pleasure of having Eric Jezewski from our National Staff in attendance. Eric outlined the plan to hopefully recharter Ohio Iota in the Fall of 2012, which is great news for all alumni of Ohio Iota. We also recognized numerous brothers for their 25 years of service to Phi Kappa Psi and then many stories both new and old were shared by every brother. We hope you will take a moment and consider coming to next year's Founders Day. If you are interested in attending this or any RCAA event, or would like to be on our distribution list, please feel free to email Tim Lynskey.

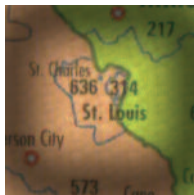

SACRAMENTO AA

Preferred Contact: Travis Nagler (travisnagler@gmail.com)

Next Event: Phi Psi B-Que (TBD - August)

Golf tournament and cookout

Association Update: The Sacramento Area AA Founders Day banquet was held on February 26th in Old Sacramento. Attending were 35 Brothers (both alumni and undergraduates) and Phi Psi Ladies. A great time was had by all! Brother Shawn Collinsworth Indiana State '91 was the evening's keynote speaker and did a fantastic job! Brother Dick Ong Oregon State '55 was presented with the Mayor's Cup, a prestigious Sacramento AA award, based on his lifetime of service to the Fraternity. Brothers in attendance were politely challenged by Brother David Tilley, SAA Vice-President, to get in touch with at least two other brothers living in the Sacramento area for SAA's next big event, our annual Phi Psi-B-Que and Golf Tournament held this August. In addition, SAA officer elections were held: Travis Nagler UC-Davis '89, President; David Tilley UC-Davis '93, Vice-President; and Jason Weiner Stanford '96, Secretary/Treasurer. Email Travis to join the SAA email list for future events.

Next Event: Family Picnic (Sunday, May 15th at 1:00 p.m.)

See association website for details

Association Update: The St. Louis AA once again reveled in the spirit of Fraternity through a long and snowy winter. This year's gathering found the Racquet Club to be quite a comfortable venue for the regular rabble-raising and story-telling. We were proud to honor Ken Thorpe and Don Krechal with their 50-year pins. The Association was thrilled with Illinois Eta's report of newly acquired housing, and is looking forward to supporting all local chapters in the coming months. As always, we hope that the spirit of brotherhood takes hold of your heart and guides you to our club. We will have a family picnic in May, and are always in danger of other impromptu encounters. Monitor our web site or Facebook group for the buzz.

SAN DIEGO AA

Association Update: Founders Day 2011 was held on Friday, February 25 at the California Beta Chapter house on the Stanford campus. About 35 alumni and 50 undergrads attended. Jared Smith UC-Irvine '08, District 6 Archon, as well as David Ellsworth Ashland '06, Chapter Management Consultant were also there to see how Founders Day is meant to be celebrated. Speaker Shawn Collinworth Indiana State '91, Executive Director, led us in observing a moment of silence to honor the passing of his dear friend and our brother Ralph Daniel. We won't forget you, Dud. Finally, we congratulate California Beta for having won the Grand Chapter award once again! To find out about upcoming events, email Eric Balin-Watkins.

SOUTH CENTRAL LOUISIANA AA

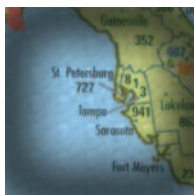

Preferred Contact: Jim Sterling (usljim@aol.com)

Next Event: Baton Rouge Social Event (TBD)

At the home of Brother Durwood Keller

Reoccurring Event: Bi-monthly meeting (3rd Sunday of every odd month - events in even months)

Association Update: SCLAA held its 2nd Founders Day Luncheon on February 19, 2011 at Abacus Restaurant and Catering in Lafayette, Louisiana. Joining us was our quest speaker, Brother Kevin Marks, Director of Alumni Services from our National Headquarters. Also, joining us was Brother Scott Scammell, who colonized Louisiana Beta back in 1967. Brother Scammell flew in from New Jersey where he resides. Speeches by Brother Marks and Scammell were words of promise and enlightenment. SCLAA is still a young organization for Phi Kappa Psi, but has lots of promise for the future. Our next social event will be held in June at Brother Durwood Keller's home. This will be somewhat of a membership drive for the Baton Rouge, Louisiana area. We will also extend an invitation to the officers of Louisiana Alpha to join us. Date and time to be announced. Also, we are working toward getting Louisiana Beta back on the campus at the University of Louisiana in Lafayette.

SOUTH FLORIDA GULF COAST AA ★

Preferred Contact: Bob Greene (rg27masten@aol.com)

Association Update: Founders Day 2011 saw brothers from 10 chapters gather to hear Rev. David McDonald Beloit '82, our Mystagogue, tell of his pride in Phi Kappa Psi which his son Cullen has just pledged. SFGCAA President Murray Renick Westminster '60 presented 50-year pins to Charles Mahan West Virginia '57, Corky Prahl Buffalo '61 and Roger Reese Buffalo '61. Our treasurer, Travis Hart Indiana '92 received an overdue 10-year pin. Bob Pierce West Virginia '39, the senior brother present, displayed photos of the rehabilitated chapter house in Morgantown. The brothers were proud of the association being accredited this past year. Barry Rubin Temple '87, our webmaster, volunteered to organize a day at the game, and several other events were discussed. Art Bevilacqua Buffalo '58 joined brothers Brennison, Greene, Prahl and Reese to give the Most Attendees Award to the alumni from Buffalo. We remembered Brothers Richard C. Hall, DDS, Buffalo '57 and Ralph D. Daniel Arizona '47 who have joined the Chapter Eternal. Both served their country in military uniform in their time. The February 18, 2012 Founders Day Luncheon will be at the Firkins & Fox Pub, 2505 Manatee Ave East, (AKA SR64), Bradenton, FL 34208. Only 3.9 miles west of Interstate 75 exit 220. Summer Golf Outing

Reoccurring Event: Sig Bet Monthly Lunch (Third Friday of each month at Noon)

Association Update: Undergraduates and alumni from Ohio Eta and Ohio Zeta celebrated Founders Day 2011 on Friday, February 18th. A reception was followed by a dinner buffet and program with speakers from Eta, Zeta and HQ. The program included the Ceremony of Candles, particularly poignant with the passing of Brother Dud Daniel, and the ritual of Phi Kappa Psi. For the first time, the Symposiarch duties were shared by recent past GP's of Ohio Eta. Fellowship and brotherhood were the spirit of the evening.

TUCSON AA

Preferred Contact: Joel Davis (davis.joel.alex@gmail.com)

Association Update: The Tucson Alumni Association welcomed alumni to Tucson for our annual Founders Day dinner on February 12, 2011. Although the national Fraternity provides a theme for alumni associations to host Founders Day events, we departed from the theme this year in order to honor our friend and brother, the late Ralph "Dud" Daniel. Symposiarch Phil Davidson Arizona '59 lead us in a memorial and tribute to Dud as local alumni shared their fond memories and reminisced about Dud. Our featured speaker Steve Fowler Arizona '77 shared highlights of his interaction with Dud over many years and tried to distill the wit and wisdom of our own Mr. Phi Psi. Special thanks to C.J. Calkins for organizing the golf outing earlier in the day and to the Paul Fielding, president of Dud's beloved Arizona Alpha Chapter, for making sure the Chapter was well represented. The evening was a powerful reminder that the legacy of Dud Daniel will live on for years to come.

Association Update: Founders Day 2011 for the Twin Cities Alumni Association took place on Friday February 18th at the McNamara Alumni Center on the University of Minnesota Campus with almost 100 undergraduate and alumni brothers present. We were honored to hear from our National Assistant Executive Director, Brother Chad Stegemiller. After our keynote speaker, we heard updates from our Minn. Beta GP, philanthropy chair, mentoring committee and the house corporation president. Our final presentation was by our scholarship committee, who handed out $9,000 in scholarships to some of our well deserving undergraduate brothers. The evening closed with our traditional signing of "Noble Fraternity" and the Phi Kappa Psi chant! We hope to see many brothers at our summer golf outing. For more information, please contact John Soderlund at johnsoderlund@msn.com. To learn more about the Twin Cities Alumni Association, or to be added to our email list, please contact Jason Baker or visit the website. We look forward to seeing you at one of our future events!

BROTHER TACKLES THE WORLD'S TOUGHEST TRAILS, FOR A CAUSE

What began as a personal test has turned into an annual expedition for Chris DePolo West Virginia '06. In the summer of 2009, just months after graduating from college, Chris hiked all 2,178.3 miles of the Appalachian Trail, starting in Georgia and ending in Maine. The journey took 173 days and he joined an elite group of roughly 10,000 people to hike the entire trail. While he encountered a number of interesting people to provide a bit of companionship on the journey, Chris ventured alone.

"I really enjoyed the lack of obligation to anyone for anything," he said. "Everything relied on me. If I got into a tough or bad situation, there wasn't anyone there for me. I had to rely on my wits and skills alone. I carry, within reason, everything I need for most situations. They're all on my back so at the end of the day, whenever I decide I want the end of the day to be, I stop and set up camp."

Always up for the next challenge, Chris decided to tackle a larger mountain, literally and figuratively, in the summer of 2010. He hiked the Pacific Crest Trail, 2,663 miles of west coast terrain that took him from Mexico to Canada. A seasoned hiker at this point, the journey took 127 days. Throughout all of his outdoor expeditions, one thing beyond any other has been the biggest hurdle.

"The greatest struggle in both of my hikes that I find more frustrating than almost anything else is mosquitoes," he recounts. "Nothing tries my patience like those little bloodsuckers."

So, what is next for a young man who has tackled some of the toughest trails in North America? The "Triple Crown" of hiking. This June, Chris is planning on tackling the Continental Divide Trail, which carries a slogan of 'Embrace the Brutality.' Finished by only 200 people, it is 3,100 miles long, takes the hiker from Canada to Mexico through the Rocky Mountains and isn't complete, which means Chris will have to rely on compass and map work to guide him through 30 percent of the trail. He is not intimidated, however, and Phi Kappa Psi has a lot to do with that.

"Phi Kappa Psi really taught me to be my own person and to have faith in myself and my abilities, and to reach out for what I want to do," he said. "You grow up and everyone tells you that you can do whatever you want but it doesn't really set in until you actually do it."

Wanting to give back to the Fraternity that has given him so much, Chris is hiking this summer in hopes of also raising money for the American Leadership Academy (ALA).

"I feel like the ALA put the finishing touches on my Phi Psi experience in college. I feel that I learned more in my two sessions at the ALA than I did in college. It's been a dream of mine to give back to something that has played such a huge role in shaping my life."

A website is coming shortly, and Chris will be documenting his journey day by day. He asks that supporters donate a penny a mile. To read more about Chris' previous hikes, you can check out his online journals at www.Postholer.com/chance09.

FIVE VOLUME BOOK CAPS INCREDIBLE RESEARCH PROJECT BY ONE BROTHER

Dr. Leo V. Kanawada, Jr. Bucknell '60, a decorated history teacher and Army veteran, recently released his five-volume series "The Holocaust Diaries." An extensive recount of actual documents, the series challenges the conventional wisdom claiming that, during World War II, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Pope Pius XII were indifferent and did little to save the millions of Jews in Nazi-controlled Europe. The five volumes chronologically track the events leading up to the end of Adolf Hitler's reign and documents the thousands of lives saved by the President and the Pope. With a Ph.D. in History from St. John's University, Brother Kanawada taught the subject in the Hicksville (N.Y.) Public Schools, where he is a member of the Hicksville High School Hall of Fame.

BROTHER'S BOOK LOOKS TO AID THOSE WITH ANXIETY

Mark Reinecke Stanford '78, who has written or edited hundreds of books and articles in his career, has published his first book with public consumption in mind. A psychology professor at Northwestern University, Reinecke's book, "Little Ways to Keep Calm and Carry On: Twenty Lessons for Managing Worry, Anxiety and Fear," has a simple message for those coping with anxiety: deal with it like whitewater rafting. He cites the natural instinct to protect oneself and go with the flow when tossed from a raft as the natural way to deal with stress. Rather than prepare for a worst-case scenario, the book aims to train the reader to prepare for the most likely outcome and not the perceived worst result. The book has several lessons for coping with various levels of stress.

BROTHER TAPS HOLLYWOOD EXPERIENCE IN PUBLISHING FIFTH BOOK

Craig Tennis Colorado '59 has had a storied career in Hollywood. He spent eight years as a segment producer and writer for "The Tonight Show," which led to his successful memoir "Johnny Tonight!" selling over 250,000 copies. He would later contribute on "The Love Boat" and "Saturday Night Live" before writing stage comedies that ran in Los Angeles and Las Vegas. Those experiences, plus a show-business bar in Studio City, California, provided the background for writing his most recent book, "Show Business is Faux Business." The book is hailed as an irreverent collection of celebrity quotations ranging from Katherine Hepburn to Lady GaGa and Will Rogers to Eminem.

THE GREATEST STORY EVER TOLD... NOW SPOKEN, THANKS TO A PHI PSI

Most audio books are an afterthought recording; $10,000 or so to bring a book to life in the ears of a listener. But what about THE Book? The Bible had been recorded before, but not like this... "The Word of Promise Audio Bible" is a 79-CD set, $5 million work of art, with over 98 hours of fully produced, musically scored content, featuring 600+ unique characters of The Bible. And how about the actors playing those characters? Jim Caviezel, familiar as the on-screen Jesus Christ from "The Passion of the Christ," reprised his role in the audio book. Other actors included Jon Voight, Gary Sinise, Richard Dreyfuss, Marisa Tomei and Jason Alexander. In total, it took over 6,000 hours of studio time to record every line, and a Phi Psi was there for every second.

JoBe Cerny Valparaiso '67, perhaps most famous for being the voice of the Pillsbury Doughboy, was the director of the project. It was a three-year commitment to bring each story and character of The Bible to life. 175,000 takes later, many at Cerny's Chicago-based recording studio, and the audio book was complete. In the end, it was well worth the effort. "The Word of Promise Audio Bible" has sold more than 700,000 copies of the massive set, won four "Audie" awards from the Audio Publishers Association in 2010 and was runner-up for Audio Book of the Year for 2009.

Cerny, who, ironically, went to Valparaiso expecting to become a member of the clergy, was able to tap into his extensive background as an actor and voice talent to guide each actor through their role. Cerny has been featured in more than 3,000 commercials throughout his career and is also a stage actor, including a stint with Chicago's famed comedy troupe, Second City.

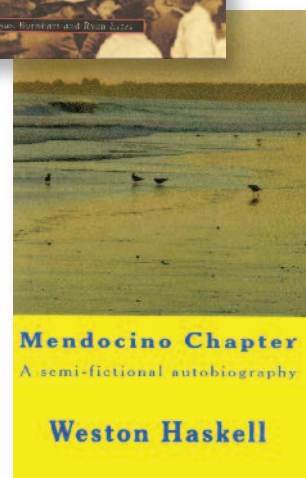

PHI PSI EDUCATOR TEAMS WITH HISTORIAN TO DOCUMENT GROWTH OF MCKINNEY, TEXAS

Ryan Barnhart Kansas '97, an English teacher, partnered with historian Ryan Estes to compile an impressive photographic history of McKinney's past. Using images from the Chestnut Square Organization's archives, the book also features photographs from private collections. McKinney is one of America's fastest growing cities and has seen a population boom from approximately 16,000 residents in 1985 to more than 120,000 in 2010. In addition to writing and teaching, Brother Barnhart is a speaker and a freelance journalist. He has written a weekly column for the Denton Record-Chronicle and articles for the Dallas Morning News, among many others.

THE LIFE OF ONE PHI PSI (SORT OF) TOLD

In his first published book, Weston Haskell Duke '50 uses the romantic story of reuniting with the lost love of 40 years as the starting point of an autobiography that takes the reader beyond reality and into a gripping story of love, trust and adventure. "Mendocino Chapter" recounts the fateful meeting of Dr. Haskell with the lost love of his life in 1964. The inability to pursue a relationship from that encounter allowed for the 'what if' scenario that became the foundation of the book. Currently living in Brookshire, Texas, he has two more books pending in 2011.

LIPPARD RECEIVES TOP HONOR SportsBusiness Journal Selects GMR's San Francisco GM As One of Most Influential in Sports Under Age 40

SportsBusiness Journal has honored GMR Marketing vice president Adam Lippard as one of the most influential young executives in sports with inclusion on the prestigious "Forty Under 40" list.

Lippard, 39, who is general manager of GMR's San Francisco office, was lauded for the critical role that he has played with several of the agency's top sports accounts, as well as his contribution to GMR's global growth initiatives in the London, Sochi and Brazil marketplaces in advance of the upcoming Olympics and World Cup. He has also managed the expansion of the office, which has grown from three to 25 employees during his decade with GMR.

"Adam has allowed us to make meaningful relationships with properties, clients and prospects," lauded Mike Boykin, GMR's executive vice president of sports. "He's passionate about delivering for clients, and they pick that up when they talk to him."

Lippard's influence in sports goes well beyond his work with GMR. In late 2009, he took a three-month sabbatical to do pro bono work with the Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) arm of FIFA, streetfootballworld, volunteering with international cause-related organizations in Africa and India. In South Africa, he consulted for GrassrootSoccer (GRS), whose mission is to stop the spread of HIV by using the universal language of soccer. While at GRS, Lippard was instrumental in developing a campaign called, "Give HIV the Red Card." In India, he accepted a volunteer assignment with "Magic Bus," which is an organization dedicated to inspiring impoverished youths through sports to discover their true potential and encourage them to find purpose in life. Lippard said the sabbatical significantly changed his approach to life and business.

"Prior to the sabbatical, I think perhaps I overvalued the importance of the work I did," he said. "It's one thing to help my clients sell more of their products or services through their sports and entertainment efforts. It's an entirely different thing to impact a child's life."

Lippard is a graduate of Syracuse University with a BA in Broadcast Journalism from the SI Newhouse School of Communications ('93). He earned his Masters in Sports Management from Ohio University ('94). Lippard has taught graduate level sports marketing classes as an adjunct professor at the University of San Francisco.

Lippard and the other Forty Under 40 honorees will be feted at a banquet in Miami on March 31.

GMR Marketing is a global, full-service engagement marketing agency that blends off-line and on-line marketing to create branded experiences. GMR leverages the consumer passion areas of sports, music, entertainment and lifestyle interests. A subsidiary of Omnicom, GMR is headquartered in Milwaukee, with 24 offices in 12 countries. GMR has received numerous industry accolades, including SportsBusiness Journal's 2009 "Sports Event Marketing Firm of the Year" award.

Iowa Beta Vice President Colton Kennedy Iowa State '09 was a recipient of the Laura W. Bush Traveling Fellowship on September 8, 2010. The award will allow him to travel to India this summer to work with multiple not-for-profit organizations in the development of appropriate rural technologies and communication materials.

The Winter 2011 issue of The Shield incorrectly listed the passing of Brother William F. Sharpe Minnesota '81, who contacted the National Headquarters to inform us that he is, indeed, alive and well.

B. Don Barnes Oklahoma Alpha '43

B. Don Barnes, retired Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Oklahoma, passed away on March 3, 2011 at the age of 86. A stint in the U.S. Naval Reserve interrupted his time at the University of Oklahoma, eventually settling on a law degree, graduating in 1949. After a brief stint in private practice, he was elected Superior Court Judge in 1954, serving four terms until 1972, when he was appointed to the Oklahoma Supreme Court. He would serve on that body until 1985, finishing with 30 years of service on the bench. A loyal Oklahoman, he was dedicated to the state and its flagship school, where he was an avid football fan of the Sooners. He is survived by his wife of 64 years, Jean, three children, seven grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Philip J. Braun

Wisconsin Gamma '56

Philip J. Braun, who chapter brothers remember as a dedicated and active member of Phi Kappa Psi, passed away on Wednesday, January 19, 2011, at the age of 73. After a successful career in sales for the Mobil Oil Corporation in northwest Indiana and northern Illinois, Philip retired in 1997 to focus on his true passions in life, golf and his family. He is survived by his wife, Judith, three sons and one grandson.

John R. Cadden

Kansas Alpha '38

John "Jack" Robert Cadden, the first member of Kansas Alpha in a long line of Cadden men, passed away in late 2010. A chapter president during his time at Kansas, he graduated with a degree in engineering. Jack spent a large portion of his career as an engineer for the Lockheed Corporation working with advanced "top secret" missile systems. He is preceded in death by his first wife of 28 years, Ruthe, and their daughter, Jill. He is also preceded in death by his second wife of 35 years, Barbara. His younger brother, two nephews and a great-nephew all followed his lead by joining Phi Kappa Psi at the University of Kansas.

Paul R. Carpenter

Kansas Alpha '42

Paul Russell Carpenter passed away peacefully with his family at his side on January 20, 2011. A member of the baseball team while in college, he was a dedicated Jayhawk. He enlisted in the Marines while in school, becoming Second Lieutenant before returning to Kansas in 1945 to complete both his undergraduate and medical degrees. He was board certified in General and Thoracic Surgery and faithfully served Wyandotte County (Kansas) for 42 years. He served as the chief of staff for multiple hospitals and, in his free time, bred champion quarter horses and cattle. His core values can be found in a letter written to his mother in 1947, "My main object in life right now is to become a good doctor and be able to help other people as you have helped me." Dr. Carpenter is survived by his wife and companion of 64 years, Frances, six children, 10 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Richard P. Clegg

Ohio Eta '54

Richard Paul Clegg passed away on Monday, November 29, 2010 at the age of 76 in Loveland, Ohio. At Toledo, he was a member of the football team, served in the U.S. Naval Reserves and met his wife, a Phi Psi Sweetheart, whom he married in 1958. He worked for the Ohio Bell Company for more than 35 years, retiring in 1990. He was preceded in death by his first wife, Shirley, and is survived by his second wife of 20 years, Marjory, two sons (including legacy Richard A. Toledo '78), three step-sons and eight grandchildren.

Wilbur F. Daily Jr.

California Beta '50

Wilbur "Pat" Daily passed away in March of 2010 after a courageous battle with cancer. He was 80-years-old. A veteran of the Korean War, Pat spent life after the Navy as a successful real estate professional. His versatility led him, and his family, to memorable stretches in Hawaii, Sacramento and his hometown of Portland. His fondest memories were those involving athletics, including basketball and baseball. He is survived by his wife of 57 years, Lucille, four children, nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

James W. Dotten

Oregon Alpha '66

James W. Dotten passed away on March 14, 2010 due to complications sustained from breaking his hip. Many Phi Psi brothers shared wonderful memories. "I enjoyed being with Jim and savoring his wild and stylish way of life. It didn't matter if he was in the money or broke and he was both many times; he was always generous to his friends," said Bob Reid Oregon '66. In his early career, James managed several restaurants and was involved in institutional food sales. In Maui, Hawaii, he was Captain at the Hyatt Regency Swan Court. James' life revolved around food and hospitality. He made friends quickly, often just while sitting beside someone in a restaurant or bar. "His positive contributions to the lives of so many pledges, his undying support of the Fraternity throughout the years, and his ongoing positive opinion of his classmates during his tenure at the University of Oregon and at Phi kappa Psi are his legacy," said Bob MacDonald Oregon '65. He is survived by his daughter, Amanda, and three grandchildren.

Jeffrey A. Foshee

Alabama Beta '75

Jeffrey "Jeff" Alan Foshee passed away suddenly on September 28, 2010. A part of the first pledge class for Phi Kappa Psi's chapter at Auburn University, he received his law degree after graduation before a successful law career in Montgomery, Alabama and Bowling Green, Kentucky. Loyal to his chapter brothers, he will always be remembered for his sense of humor and quick wit. He is survived by his wife of 30 years, Gayrene, and one daughter.

Otto N. Frenzel

Pennsylvania Iota '51

Otto Nicholas "Nick" Frenzel III, one of the few remaining old-fashioned bankers of Indianapolis, passed away on December 24, 2010 at the age of 80. A graduate of the Wharton School, he served two years in the United States Air Force before starting in the family business of banking. The sixth member of his family to become CEO of Merchants National Bank & Trust Company, he rose to hold that position in 1972. In 1979, he was named Chairman of Merchants National Company, parent company to the local bank. In 1992, he was elected Chairman of the Board of National City Bank of Indiana and to the Board of National City Corporation, positions he held until his retirement in 1995. A devoted philanthropist, he led the boards of multiple Indianapolis groups, including the Riley Children's Foundation and United Way of Central Indiana. He also was a part of the group that brought the Indianapolis Colts to the Midwest in 1984, part of a major revitalization of the city. He is survived by his three children and nine grandchildren.

Harry B. Greaves

Oklahoma Alpha '53

Harry B. Greaves, Jr. passed away February 20, 2011 in El Paso, TX. A president of the Phi Psi chapter while an undergraduate, he served two years in the Army after graduation. Upon discharge, Harry enjoyed a long and successful career with the Employee Benefits Division of the Aetna Life Insurance Company. After Aetna, he co-founded the ECA Companies of Texas. He was heavily involved in his community, holding membership in several local organizations, a founder of his local church and a long-time involvement with the Sun Bowl Committee. Harry is survived by his wife of 53 years, Kathryn, two sons and four grandchildren.

Jeremy J. Griess

Nebraska Alpha '90

Jeremy John Griess passed away in the majestic and magnificent mountains on Paradise Valley Ranch near Florissant, Colorado, on April 11, 2010. He was 39-years-old. After graduating from the University of Nebraska, he worked for Hewlett Packard for 10 years and then two years for Norvell before his passing. Jeremy was an outgoing and adventurous man who loved mountain biking, fishing, camping and hiking in the beautiful Colorado Rockies, which he called his "slice of heaven." Jeremy, if he could, would remind each of us to be patient with each other, to speak kindly to one another, to laugh, and to be appreciative of others and their generosity of spirit. He is survived by his loving parents and three siblings.

Robert C. Hall

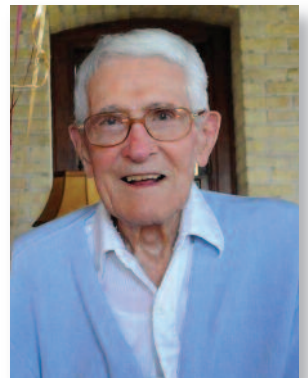

New York Eta '57

Dr. Robert Charles "Dick" Hall passed away on February 17, 2011 at the age of 72. An active student at SUNY at Buffalo, including editor of the school newspaper, Dick received his dental degree from the school as well. After serving his country as an officer and dentist in the US Army, he began his practice in Pompano Beach, Florida in 1971. He continued his practice, even through the painful pancreatic cancer treatments, up until his death. He is survived by his wife, Rosemary, three children and three grandchildren.

Karl T. Hellerman

Indiana Epsilon '55

Karl T. Hellerman passed away on January 14, 2011, at the age of 100 years. A 1934 graduate of Valparaiso, Brother Hellerman was originally a member of the local fraternity that preceded Phi Kappa Psi on campus. He returned two years after chartering to join the official roles and was incredibly proud of his association. Up until the day of his passing, he carried his Phi Kappa Psi membership card in his wallet. He was the founder and co-owner of Dy-Dee Wash Diaper Service from 1937 until 1990, when the business was sold. He was also president of the National Institute of Diaper Services in 1955. He was preceded in death by his wife of 66 years, Lorraine and two children. He is survived by three children, one grandchild and two great-grandchildren.

Thomas D. Hession

Indiana Alpha '56

Thomas D. Hession, a lifelong teacher and coach, passed away January 16, 2011 at the age of 73. While at Shelbyville (Ind.) High School, Tom taught government and economics. He was the head football coach and led the Golden Bears to the first ever South Central Conference Championship in 1975. That year he was voted SCC Coach of the Year. Tom also served as the Indiana Football Coaches Association President. Tom was also the head baseball coach at Shelbyville, winning the conference championship in 1982-83. A chapter president during his time at Vanderbilt, Jeff would go on to attend law school at the University of Virginia School of Law, where he graduated in 1983. Jeff then moved to Houston and never left. He joined the law firm of Bracewell and Patterson (later Bracewell and Giuliani LLP), representing educational entities. He became known as a national expert in the area of educational law. In 1998, Jeff was president of the Education Law Association, a national school law group. He also served on the NSBA Council of School Attorneys Board of Directors from 2005-2009. In 2003, ELA honored Jeff by giving him the McGhehey Award for excellence in education law. He published over 50 articles, books, and monographs on education law. Jeff is survived by his wife, Laura, and their three children. He was also preceded in death by his daughter, Lillie.

Anthony J. Longo

California Epsilon '58

Anthony Jay Longo passed away on December 2, 2010, at the age of 71, after a courageous battle with lung cancer. A prolific athlete growing up, he earned the nickname "Tony Tuff" for his football and track skills. He was a three-year letter winner on the UCLA football team. After college, his success in the insurance business led to the creation of the AJ Longo and Associates, which still operates prosperously in Pasadena, California. He was also a strong supporter of his alma mater, donating generously to the campus in Westwood. He is survived by his loving wife, Geri, four children and 12 grandchildren.

John K. Miller

Indiana Beta '49

John Keith Miller passed away on March 14, 2011 at the age of 81. After graduating from Indiana University in 1954 with a Master's of Social Work, he entered the US Army in 1955. “LET US BE WHAT WE SAY WE ARE:
A FRATERNITY, NOT A CLUB,
RUN BY MEN AND NOT BOYS
AND BASED ON IDEALS, NOT EXPEDIENCY.”

-RALPH D. “DUD” DANIEL

CONTINUE THE LEGACY OF MR. PHI PSI

JOIN PHI KAPPA PSI AS WE HONOR AND CELEBRATE THE LIFE AND LEGACY OF BROTHER RALPH “DUD” DANIEL, ARIZONA ‘47, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR EMERITUS. For 63 years Dud served as a selfless volunteer, a charismatic leader, an infectious storyteller and, of course, a compassionate and loyal brother, leading and inspiring Phi Kappa Psi and the interfraternal world.

Assist Phi Psi in endowing the Ralph “Dud” Daniel Leadership award, a national scholarship which annually recognizes a member who has made outstanding leadership contributions to his chapter, campus and community. Revered as the most prestigious national scholarship offered, the award immensely impacts its recipients educational experience. Visit www.PKPFoundation.org today to make a gift in Dud’s name and honor a legacy that has touched the lives of countless Phi Psis.

PHI KAPPA PSI FOUNDATION

Reach Beyond. Achieve Success.
